Mr. Henry S. Crandall,
Route 1,
Diamond Point,
Warren County, N. Y.

My dear Mr. Crandall:

Thanks for your prompt reply to my recent letter of inquiry, although you were unable to give me the date of marriage of Pardon Crandall and Martha LeBaron who were married probably about 1804.

The Lewis Crandall who died Oct. 1, 1841, and lies in the Caldwell Cemetery near your home, was, I believe, the only son and youngest child of Pardon Crandall and his second wife, Martha LeBaron. According to the record I have, Martha LeBaron bore four daughters and the one son, Lewis E.

I have been informed that Pardon Crandall transferred his farm (and homestead) to his son Benjamin, your great grandfather, in 1821. And I have been told that Pardon Crandall built the house there soon after the American Revolution. Can you inform me as to when he first occupied this homestead? The date of acquisition of title.

And have you any record of when Susannah Wells, first wife of Pardon Crandall, died?

Very truly yours,

Chas. M. Washburn

My dear Mr. Crandall:

Many thanks for your kind letter giving the very interesting data regarding the Pardon Crandall family and descendants, and the address of your aunt, Mrs. Mary J. Crandall Sheldon. I have not yet written to her, but shall do so.

If I am correctly informed, you reside in the house built by your Great Great Grandfather Pardon Crandall soon after the Revolutionary War. If this is correct the house must have been the dwelling place of the family for a hundred and fifty years, more or less. As Pardon Crandall and his son Benjamin had large families, it would naturally be a house of spacious construction. And it was also the home of my Grandmother Betsy Washburn (Elizabeth Crandall) before she married my Grandfather John Washburn. Possibly pictures have been taken of this house at some time, and a copy of such a picture might be obtained. If not, it might be possible to have one taken when summer comes and circumstances are favorable, I to bear the expense, of course. It would interest me much to have a picture of the girlhood home of my grandmother, and her parents, my great grandparents. I have a sentiment for these things. I imagine the scenery of that vicinity must be more or less picturesque.

Perhaps you could draw for me a ground plan of the house and the plan of the upper story, giving dimensions, and the situation or direction in which the building fronts, etc. But I must not cause too much bother.

Thanks for the address of Mrs. I. H. Pinner of Brooklyn, N. Y. I have already had some letters from her and she was kind enough to give me considerable data of the family of Pardon Crandall and his descendants.

We have had a fine winter here, not as severe as in some years, for which we are not sorry. Now the equinox has passed and we may begin to look forward to the coming of spring. The last few days have been quite cold, and perhaps two feet of snow has fallen.

With best wishes for yourself and family, I remain

Very truly yours,

Chas. M. Washburn

Dear [illegible]:

1835

I was extremely sorry to hear about your husband's illness. I truly sympathize with him. 1786

I am doing fine. I still have two places on my leg that have not healed up - but they are coming along. When they heal I will have a regime of walking.

I am enclosing the sheets I promised - which were xeroxed before my surgery. I have included all of my pedigree charts on the Crandalls. If you want the family group sheets - let me know. I can now drive and I could get them.

My dear Mr. Crandall -

In reference to our conversation of last Summer at the Fort William Henry Hotel I am sending you Crandall linage as I promised; I have not copied it literally as that would take up much time and consume a great deal of work but have given you a very good outline -

Elder John Crandall was a very remarkable person he was also in politics -

Pardon Crandalls grave should be marked if it is not already; you might call up some one in the "Jane McCrea Chapter of the DAR", in Glens Falls I am sure they would like to know about it.

Dear Sarah:

Two of my ancestors, Pardon Crandall and Phineas Wheeler, lived and died in the Warrensburg/Caldwell area.

Sometime ago, you sent me bible records for Pardon and other Crandalls. When I looked at your library name again, it occurred to me that you might also have information on Phineas Wheeler, a Revolutionary War soldier, who died in Warrensburg in 1836; Pelatiah Richards; and Samuel Richards.

According to my information three children of Phineas and Mary (McCobb) Wheeler married the following: James Wheeler married ca 1818 Bathsheba Crandall, daughter of Pardon Crandall; Sally Wheeler married Pelatiah Richards, but she died young, and he remarried; Harriet Wheeler married Samuel Richards and in 1844 lived in Allegany County, New York. Abigail Wheeler, according to my information, never married; and she continued to live in Warrensburg or Caldwell.

Do you have copies of bible records, wills, or other information for Phineas Wheeler, Pelatiah Richards, or Samuel Richards. If you have information concerning these people, I would certainly appreciate copies.

Phineas Wheeler and his wife, Mary, are buried in the Pelatiah Richards plot in the large cemetery in Warrensburg. The cemetery is on the right-hand side of the road going west. I have misplaced my notes concerning the cemetery name, but part of the cemetery appears to be Catholic.

If you have bible records, wills, or other materials, I will be glad to send the cost of copies and postage immediately.

I will certainly appreciate any information you can give me.

Sincerely,

Betty Leach

/ 7 Rev. JOSEPH CRANDALL of Newport, Westerly, and South Kingstown, R.I., son of Eld. John, b. abt. 1661 in Westerly, R.I.; d. 12 Sept. 1737; m. abt 1681, Deborah Hubbard Burdick, dau. of Robert and Ruth (Hubbard) Burdick, b. 11 Jan. 1640. Ruth Hubbard was dau. of Samuel and Tacy Cooper Hubbard. Tacy (Tasy, Tase) Cooper came to Dorchester, Mass. 9 June 1634 from England and was married to Samuel Hubbard when she was 28 yrs. old. (Hist. of Windsor, Conn. from the Literary Diary of Ezra Stiles, Vol. 3 p. 28). Samuel Hubbard came to Salem, Mass. in 1633 and married Tacy Cooper 4 Jan. 1636 at Windsor, Conn. by Mr. Ludlow. They were both in the party that marched through the wilderness from Watertown, Mass. during the terrible winter of 1635 to become the founders of Conn. They were persecuted in Mass. for expressing their Baptist views. Samuel Hubbard finally in 1648 found refuge in R.I. where he was associated with Eld. John Crandall and others in founding the colony of R.I. which stands above all others for its democratic principles.

Rev. Joseph Crandall was an ordained minister of the Seventh Day Baptist Church in Newport, R.I. 8 May 1715.

He bequeaths to his wife May and to children John, Eber, Samuel, and Joseph, children of his first wife, and Mary, Nathaniel, Jonathan, Ebenezer, and Jeremiah, children of his second wife, and provides that his executors may sell his lands and put out his children to apprenticeships.

that Elder John Crandall was a Welchman. One good authority states that he died 29 Nov. 1676 at the age of 67 yrs. which would indicate that he was born in 1609 and judging from the known ages of some of his associates, this would seem probable. His first wife by whom he had 7 children has not been positively identified but record shows that she died 1 Aug. 1670. (Mildred Small of Etna, Pa. states she found in the records in Washington, D.C. that the first wife of Elder John was Mary Opp who died 20 Aug. 1669) Elder John married second, Hannah Gaylord, b. 30 Jan. 1647; d. 3 Aug. 1678. After the death of Eld. John his widow married, second, John Cottrell, Jr. Hannah Gaylord was the dau. of William (William, John Nicholas) and Ann (Porter) Gaylord.

b. 1789 d.03 Mar 1861 in LaHarpe, Ill (near Nauvoo), he married Margaret McBride in 1810 in Warren N.Y. They had 12 children (9 survived to be married), The family moved to Genessee County, N.Y., about 1815 and later to Villanova, N.Y. where David , Margaret and their children over eight years old joined the church in 1833 and were the first Crandalls to do so. The family moved with the Saints from time to time. In 1845 at LaHarpe Ill. (Nauvoo area), Margaret died and David soon thereafter remarried. When the Saints left this area in 1846 David and his youngest child, a daughter, age 10, did not move but stayed with his second wife who refused to move. All his other children, including the families of those who were married, moved and came to Utah in 1850. David and his daughter lived in LaHarpe with the second wife the rest of their lives. The daughter died at age 17. It is believed that David had no children by his second wife.

1. Barzilla, m. his first cousin, Catherine Northup (No. 3, ii, 2), daughter of Reynolds Northup.

4. Christopher^{5} Northup (Carr^{4}), of North Kingstown, R. I., a resident of Granville, Washington Co., N. Y., in 1815, when he built the barn on the farm where Ephraim Northup was living in 1887, a settler in 1821 at Pittsfield, Otsego Co., N. Y., where many of his wife's family had settled, born at North Kingstown 3 Apr. 1772, died at Pittsfield 29 Aug. 1829. He married, 29 Dec. 1796, Penelope Hall (Elder William Northup officiating), born about 1765, died at Pittsfield 16 Jan. 1830, "aged 64," daughter of William and Penelope Hall.

Both Christopher Northup and his wife are now buried in Deming Cemetery, Edmeston, N. Y.

Children, born at North Kingstown:

i. Elizabeth,^{6} b. 10 Oct. 1796; d. young.
ii. Sarah Clarke, b. 10 Sept. 1797; d. 14 June 1871; m. at North Kingstown Luther Eddy, a settler about 1821 at Pittsfield, N. Y., where he lived on a farm about a mile north of the town, b. 27 Aug. 1789, d. 20 May 1869.

Both Luther Eddy and his wife are buried in Deming Cemetery. She left a considerable legacy to Gardner Herrick^{7} Northup; and John Spafard^{7} Northup, who had lived with them, inherited the farm.

Child (surname Eddy):
1. A daughter, d. in infancy.

6. iii. William Hall, b. 25 Oct. 1798.
7. iv. Christopher Carr, b. 14 Apr. 1801.
8. v. Isaac Hall, b. 14 Jan. 1803.
9. vi. Nicholas Carr, b. 8 Sept. 1805.
10. vii. Gardner Hall, b. 23 May 1808.

5. John Holmes^{5} Northup (Carr^{4}) was born at North Kingstown, R. I., 22 Mar. 1774. No record or date for his marriage has ever been found, but family records prove that his wife was Anna Wells, born at Hancock, Mass., 26 Apr. 1775, daughter of Benjamin and Sarah (Reynolds) Wells.

He left a memorandum which states that after the death of his father, when he (John Holmes Northup) was six months old, he lived until 1788 with his grandfather Immanuel^{3} Northup. For the next few years he went back and forth between Rhode Island and New York State, staying part of the time with his brother Nicholas in North Kingstown and part of the time with his brother Clarke in Granville, N. Y. He was apprenticed until 30 July 1791 to James Reynolds in North Kingstown to learn the blacksmith trade. In that year he went to New York State for the first time. He settled permanently at Hebron, N. Y.

He and his wife Anna, several of their children, and his mother were first buried in the private cemetery on the farm at Hebron. Later all were buried in the family lot of his son Henry Bliss Northup at Hudson Falls, N. Y.

> "Resolved, That we, the employes of the British Hosiery Co., in meeting assembled, desire to place on record our appreciation of his great kindness, his ceaseless service and faithful performance of every duty. His ever-ready council and advice has been helpful to us all. A kind, just and generous Superintendent has been removed from our midst. He was a leader in every sense of the word, a faithful friend to all, and we can truly say a great man has gone from amongst us, one for whose loss we cannot possibly express in words our grief.
> "We do also desire to express our sincerest sympathy to the family in the loss they have sustained by the calling away of such a good, kind, faithful husband and father."

In 1888 Mr. Sills married Miss Adelaide Burrows, daughter of Jeremiah and Jane Burrows, of Derbyshire, England. Two daughters, Beatrice J. (who died at the age of six years) and Eva, were born to them. Mr. Sills was a member of Nestell Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and the West Side Club of Providence.

WELLES (Woonsocket family). The Wells or Welles family of England is of very ancient origin, clearly traceable back, it is claimed, to the time of the Norman Conquest. About 1635 several of the name, which was then sometimes spelled Wells, but oftener Welles, came from England to Massachusetts, and there was Gov. Thomas Welles of Hartford and Wethersfield, who appears first of record as a member of the court of magistrates in 1637. He was an original proprietor of Hartford, 1639, his house-lot being on the east side of what is now Governor street. He removed to Wethersfield, where he was also an original proprietor. On March 28, 1637, he became a member of the court of magistrates, and continued until he was chosen deputy governor, May 18, 1654. He was again chosen deputy governor in 1656, 1657 and 1659. He was the first treasurer in 1639, and was secretary of the Colony from 1640 to 1649. In the last named year he was commissioner of the United Colonies, and governor from 1655 to 1658. Mr. Welles was twice married, marrying (first) in England Elizabeth Hunt, and (second) in about 1645 or 1646 Elizabeth Deming, widow of Nathaniel Foote, of Wethersfield. He died in Wethersfield Jan. 14, 1659-60.

For some forty years past a branch of the Connecticut Welles family has resided at Woonsocket, this State, the head of which is the present George M. Welles, Esq., of that city, for years one of its substantial men and useful citizens, representing his ward in both branches of the city government, and as well filling other positions of trust, honor and responsibility. This George M. Welles is a direct descendant of Gov. Thomas Welles, from whom his lineage is through John, Capt. Robert, John (2), James, Allyn and Aaron Dutton Welles. These generations in detail and in regular order follow.

(II) John Welles, son of Thomas, born in 1621, in Northamptonshire, England, came to America with his father in 1636. He went with his father from Saybrook, where the latter had landed in the autumn of 1636, to the settlement at Hartford, and in 1645 removed to Stratford, Fairfield Co., Conn., where he lived the remainder of his lifetime, and died in 1659, aged thirty-eight years. Mr. Welles was made a freeman at Hartford in 1645; was representative in 1656 and 1657; was elected magistrate of Stratford in 1658, at the same time his father was governor of Connecticut. He held other important positions for years. In 1647 he married Elizabeth Bourne, and their children, born in Stratford, Conn., were: John, born in 1648; Thomas and Robert (twins), in 1651; Temperance, in 1654; Samuel, in 1656; Sarah, in 1659, and Mary, in 1661.

(III) Capt. Robert Welles, son of John, born in 1651, in Stratford, Conn., married Elizabeth, daughter of William Goodrich. Mr. Welles was adopted by his grandfather—Gov. Thomas Welles, of Hartford, Conn.—and removed to Wethersfield, where he died June 22, 1714. His children were: Thomas, John, Joseph, Prudence, Robert and Gideon.

(IV) John Welles (2), son of Capt. Robert, was born in 1678, in Wethersfield, Connecticut.

(V) James Welles, son of John (2), born Sept. 13, 1728, in Wethersfield, Conn., married Sept. 1, 1753, Prudence Wright. Their children were: Timothy, born March 20, 1754, who died July 15, ma 1759; Ebenezer, born April 10, 1756; Mary, born Oct. 1, 1758; Hannah, born May 3, 1761; Martha, born Aug. 8, 1763, who died Nov. 20, 1776; James, born March 23, 1766; Lucy, born Sept. 16, 1769 (date of death unknown); Allyn, born April 12, 1771; Prudence, born Jan. 1, 1774, who died the same day; and Moses, born Dec. 18, 1775.

(VI) Allyn Welles, son of James, was born in the town of Wethersfield, Hartford Co., Conn., and was a carpenter and joiner by occupation. He died suddenly, of heart failure, Jan. 12, 1840, in his sixty-ninth year. On Jan. 15, 1801, he was married, in Watertown, Conn., to Anna Dutton, who was born Sept. 13, 1775, and they settled in Plymouth, Conn. Mrs. Welles died Sept. 15, 1847, aged seventy-two years. They had children as follows: (1) One daughter died in infancy. (2) Joseph Allyn, born Nov. 16, 1805, married (first) Sarah Caroline Boardman, who died in 1838, the mother of one child, Catharine Louise, born Aug. 26, 1837. He subsequently married (second) Anna Keziah Merriam, who died Dec. 30, 1891, aged eighty-four years. (3) Aaron Dutton is mentioned farther on. (4) James Welles married Harriet Ruth Terry, March 23, 1834, and they had four children: Sarah Ann, born May 2, 1835, who married Jan. 21, 1863, Charles W. Harrison, who died Nov. 9, 1870 (they had one child, Charles William Edward, born May 7, 1870, who married Florence Brainard Fayles May 20, 1901, and has three children, Florence, born Aug. 16, 1902, Eleanor, born Feb. 16, 1905, and Catherine, born June 19, 1907); William Allyn, born Feb. 1, 1837, who died unmarried; Edward Terry, born June 9, 1844, who married May 16, 1872, Emma Powell, who died Dec. 4, 1879, and he died Jan. 20, 1882 (they had two children: Howard Edward, born March 26, 1875, who married June 5, 1899, in Tenafly, N. J., Kate McKeown, and had three children, Edward, born March 29, 1900, Kate, born Aug. 4, 1902, and Thomas; and Paul, born Nov. 25, 1879, who died Dec. 12, 1879); and James Dutton, born Jan. 10, 1848, who died in infancy. (5) Thomas Wright, who died March 12, 1876, married Susan Smith Moore, and they settled in Brasher Falls, St. Lawrence Co., N. Y. The children were: Joseph, who died unmarried; Anna Dutton, who married Dr. Jackson and had one child, Joseph; and Wallace Herbert, who married Carrie Boynton, and had one child, Anna (she married Edward J. Mulholland and they have had one child, Henry Welles, born Jan. 20, 1905; they reside in Piercefield, New York).

(VII) Aaron Dutton Welles, born in Plymouth, Litchfield Co., Conn., was educated there, and learned the trade of carpenter, which he followed for several years. He was also engaged in farming on his father's place, where he spent his life, and where he died in April, 1871, at the age of sixty-three years. His remains rest in the New cemetery at Plymouth. Mr. Welles was originally a Whig in political sentiment, later becoming a Republican, and he was an anti-slavery man and a strong advocate of temperance, taking a deep interest in every movement which he considered favorable to the advancement or enlightenment of the human race. He was quite active in local public matters, filling the offices of selectman of Plymouth, member of the board of relief and justice of the peace.

Mr. Welles married Martha Bull, of Plymouth, daughter of Jabez and Betsey (Benedict) Bull, and sister of Isaac Bull. She died June 20, 1887, aged seventy-six years, and was buried beside her husband in the New cemetery. Mrs. Welles was a member of the Congregational Church. She was the mother of three children: (1) Allyn, born in Plymouth in 1837, went to Wisconsin, when twenty-one, and there he spent the remainder of his life; he married Mary Mehitable Bushnell, and had two children: George A., who married Fannie Gould, and had two adopted children, Katherine and Gould (they live in Des Moines, Iowa); Asa A., a resident of Pasadena, Cal., who married Carrie Treat, and has had three children, Eva (deceased), Bernice and Carlos. Allyn Welles married (second) Hettie Bushnell, a sister of his first wife, and she still resides in Wisconsin. (2) Elizabeth, born July 26, 1839, died April 17, 1903. (3) George Merriam is mentioned below.

(VIII) George Merriam Welles was born Oct. 29, 1845, in the town of Plymouth, Conn., and acquired his early education in the schools of his native town and those of New Britain, Conn. Subsequently he furthered it and was prepared for business in a commercial college at Philadelphia. In 1865 he located in the city of Woonsocket, R. I., entering the employ of his uncle, the late Isaac M. Bull, Esq., in the office of the Hamlet Mills. Here as time passed and he grew in experience and usefulness his value was recognized from time to time, until in 1881 he was made superintendent of the mills, a relation he sustained until 1885. Subsequently he was for a period in the employ of the executor of the large Bull estate, occupied in its settlement. Still later Mr. Welles, besides being interested in a number of enterprises, became associated in the livery business with Mr. Turner as junior member of the firm of Turner & Welles. After giving up this business he became a member of the City Lumber Company, in 1889, and for the past nineteen years has been identified with that concern. He is also interested in real estate, and is one of the stockholders of the Building & Loan Association, which he helped to organize and of which he has been president since 1889. During this long period the association has never lost a cent, and three per cent. interest, compounded semi-annually, has been paid continuously. Mr. Welles is also president of the People's Savings Bank of Woonsocket, is a trustee of the Woonsocket Institution for Savings and is a director of the Woonsocket Gas Company. His reputation in his community and wherever known is that of a substantial man of good business ability and judgment, whose integrity is unquestioned.

Having managed his own business affairs successfully, as well as those of others under his charge, Mr. Welles' fellow citizens have recognized in him one well adapted to look after public interests, and several times they have elected him a member of the town council; for some six years he served efficiently as assessor of taxes; on the formation of the city government of Woonsocket he was chosen alderman from the First ward. His political support is given to the Republican party.

On Oct. 18, 1870, Mr. Welles was married, in Ogdensburg, N. Y., to Eleanor Ives, who was born at Plymouth, daughter of John O. and Martha (Tomlinson) Ives, and they have had one child, Charles Ives. The family is highly respected.

(IX) Charles Ives Welles, born in Woonsocket Aug. 19, 1872, received his education in the public and high schools of his native place and in Bryant & Stratton's Business College, Providence, and the Worcester (Mass.) Academy. For some time after commencing his business career he was engaged in the real estate and insurance business, later becoming a wholesale dealer in meats, with headquarters at Worcester. He is now connected with the City Lumber Company, Woonsocket. He is a director in the People's Savings Bank.

Mr. Welles has been twice married. His first wife, Inez A. Cook, daughter of the late Theodore Providence, and remained with that gentleman for a number of years after completing his apprenticeship. Subsequently in company with Albert Baker and Joseph Fanning, he began the manufacture of jewelry in Providence, under the firm name of Baker, Fanning & Potter, but this partnership had continued but a short time when Mr. Baker died. The firm then became Fanning & Potter and so continued until the death of Mr. Potter, which occurred on Dec. 11, 1888. Mr. Potter was a Republican in political faith, and served as a member of the common council from the Sixth ward from 1880 to 1887. Fraternally he was a member of Hope Lodge, I. O. O. F.; What Cheer Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and Calvary Commandery, Knights Templar. He attended the Union Congregational Church. He was a man of much ability, high integrity and highly esteemed.

Alfred S. Potter married, May 13, 1851, Mary E. Anthony, born July 12, 1830, daughter of Jeremiah W. and Thankful B. (Kelley) Anthony. Mrs. Potter survives him, and resides in Providence. Their children were: Edward A., born Jan. 7, 1852; Helen, Sept. 5, 1853 (who died April 25, 1856); George A., March 27, 1856 (who died July 22, 1869); Clara Y., March 16, 1859 (who died Dec. 3, 1872); Abby M., Nov. 28, 1864 (who died Jan. 13, 1888); Sarah E., Dec. 9, 1868 (who resides in Providence).

(IX) Edward Anthony Potter was born in Providence Jan. 7, 1852, and received his education in the public schools there and at Lapham Institute in Scituate. Immediately after leaving school, Mr. Potter entered the employ of his father, being put to work first in the factory, later in the office and still later as a traveling salesman, proving himself a very capable man in every capacity. He was thus engaged for a number of years. He subsequently purchased the jewelry manufacturing establishment of J. H. Hodges & Co., at Attleboro, Mass., and was quite successfully engaged in business there until 1893 under the firm name of E. A. Potter & Co., when he moved to Providence, located on Peck street and was there engaged until his death, the firm name being the same.

Mr. Potter died very suddenly, Sept. 19, 1901, and was buried in Swan Point cemetery. He was a Republican in political faith, but he took no interest in politics beyond voting. At the time of his death he was a member of the Hope and Squantum Clubs, and at one time was a member of the Union Club. He was an attendant and liberal contributor to the support of the Central Congregational Church, of which his wife was a member, having transferred her membership from the Union Congregational Church with which she united in early life. Like his father, Mr. Potter was a very successful man in business, and was one who held the esteem and respect of his fellowmen to an unusual degree. On Oct. 5, 1875, Mr. Potter was united in marriage by Rev. Kinsley Twining, to Miss Helen Knight, who was born Aug. 11, 1853, and who died Nov. 14, 1891, daughter of William and Emeline (Wood) Knight. One son, Alfred Knight, was born to them.

(X) Alfred K. Potter was born in Providence, July 27, 1880. He attended Goff Rice, Smith's English and Classical School, before entering Brown University with the class of 1902. The death of his father occurred while he was in his senior year at Brown and for the remainder of his course the young man, besides attending to his studies, managed the business. This he is still carrying on with marked success, as E. A. Potter & Co. He ranks among the capable, enterprising and successful young business men of the city. Alfred K. Potter is a member of the University Club, and the Wannamoisett Golf Club, and while at Brown was a member of the Zeta Psi fraternity.

WILLIAM N. SWEET, for years a successful teacher in the schools of Rhode Island, and particularly in those of West Greenwich, descends from and is connected with several of the State's old and honored families.

It would seem from Updike's "History of the Narragansett Church" and from Hazard's "Recollections of Olden Times," that the Sweets of Warwick and Kings Town were of Welsh origin. The progenitor of these, according to Austin, was John Sweet, of Salem, Mass., and Providence, R. I. He is of record in this country as early as 1632, and had in 1637 a grant of land in Providence. He died in that year, and his widow, whose Christian name was Mary, married (second) Ezekiel Holliman. After the death of Mr. Sweet, his widow received a grant of land, she having returned to Salem. The children of John and Mary were: John (2); James, who was of Warwick and Kings Town; and Meribah, whose name was changed to Renewed by Mr. Holliman after his marriage to Mrs. Sweet.

William N. Sweet, of this article, descends from John Sweet (2), through William, William (2), Burton, Caleb and Burton. These generations follow in detail.

(II) John Sweet (2), son of John, is of record as an inhabitant of Warwick in 1648, a freeman in 1655. He was commissioner in 1660. His grist mill, etc., at Potowomut were burned by the Indians in 1675. In 1677 he was living in Newport, where his will was made in that year, and in that year his death occurred. The Christian name of his wife was Elizabeth, and their children were: John, Daniel, James, Henry, Richard, Benjamin, William, Jeremiah and a daughter.

(III) William Sweet, son of John, married Thankful Hamilton, and settled in what is now West Greenwich. William N. Sweet, of this article, descends from John Sweet (2), through William, William (2), Burton, Caleb and Benoni. These generations follow in detail.

(II) John Sweet (2), son of John, is of record as an inhabitant of Warwick in 1648, a freeman in 1655. He was commissioner in 1660. His grist mill, etc., at Potowomut were burned by the Indians in 1675. In 1676 he was living at Newport, where his will was made in that year, and in that year his death occurred. The Christian name of his wife was Elizabeth, and their children were: John, Daniel, James, Henry, Richard, Benjamin, William, Jeremiah and a daughter.

(III) William Sweet, son of John, married [illegible], and settled in what is now [illegible]. Their children were: [illegible] born Jan. 2, 1700; Elizabeth, born Nov. 11, 1711, married Peter Wells; William (IV), born Feb. [illegible]

1715, died in 1796; Priscilla, born April 12, 1718, married Griffin Sweet, for many years prominent in West Greenwich affairs; Rachel, born May 29, 1720; Alice, born Feb. 18, 1722; Caleb, born April 17, 1724; Mary, born Oct. 23, 1726. Several of these children became residents of New York, and a number of their descendants are there living. William, the father of the children, was a carpenter and quite successful.

(IV) William Sweet (2), son of William, born Feb. 14, 1715, married Nov. 12, 1739, (first) Martha Cass, daughter of John Cass, and their children were: Dorcas, born Sept. 15, 1740, married Isaac Peckham; Benedict, born Oct. 30, 1741, was a soldier in the war of the Revolution, after which he settled at Lake George, N. Y.; Patience, born March 12, 1743, married Caleb Rogers; Job, born Aug. 16, 1744, became a sailor; William, born Dec. 1, 1745; Martha, born July 1, 1747, became the wife of Henry King. The father of these children married (second) May 3, 1761, Sarah (King) Briggs, a widow, and two children were born to them: Burton, born in 1762; and Thankful, who married Thomas Mathewson, and lived and died in Vermont. William Sweet (2) died in 1796, and was buried in West Greenwich. He was a carpenter and millwright by trade, and a man well known and respected in his day. He was noted for his great physical strength, many of his feats and displays of strength being recollected and related by succeeding generations.

(V) Burton Sweet, son of William (2), was born in 1762 in West Greenwich, and was reared a farmer, which occupation he followed through life. He married Rachel, daughter of Josiah Matteson, and they were the parents of: William; Caleb, born July 14, 1786, and died in 1851; Francis, who married Betsy Tarbox, of Washington Valley; Mercy, who married Wanton Green; Sally, who married Phillip Matteson, Jr.; Mary, who married James T. Vaughan, and became the mother of Clark, John, George, Clara and Mary; Roby, who married Jonathan Andrews; and Thankful, who died unmarried.

(VI) Caleb Sweet, son of Burton, was born in West Greenwich, and like his father was reared to farm work. He enjoyed the advantages of the district schools, and was successful to a large degree, notwithstanding his ill health for more than thirty years preceding his death. He was married July 28, 1808, to Bethana Andrews, daughter of Timothy and Russell (Matteson) Andrews, and their children were: Amos, born April 24, 1809, married Ruth Brown and had Phebe, born Oct. 1, 1837 (married James A. Whitford, and they had a son, Byron Andrews). Mary A., born Aug. 2, 1839 (married J. Ditus Andrews, and died in September, 1903), Abbe, born June 3, 1842 (died in June, 1905), William B. (died in youth); Burton; Phebe, born in May, 1813, married George Dawley, and they had a daughter, Caroline S., who married Samuel D. Bowen, of Washington, Rhode Island.

(VII) Burton Sweet, son of Caleb, born Aug. 17, 1810, in West Greenwich, was a very successful farmer and a man of influence. He was for years a member of the town council, and for some time was president of that body. He also held various other public offices, and in any capacity rendered highly satisfactory service. He was a man of striking physical proportions, and it is said that his industry and thrift were fully equal to his great strength. He was of a social, genial disposition and made and retained many friendships, and it is unlikely that any man of his period possessed and merited to a greater degree the esteem and regard of his friends and neighbors. He enjoyed reading and sought general information, and, possessing a retentive memory, he was able to discourse on the topics of the day with more than ordinary intelligence. He died July 23, 1870. He was a lifelong Democrat, and a man interested in and familiar with the affairs of his community.

In November, 1832, Mr. Sweet was married to Eliza Nichols, daughter of Judge Jonathan Nichols, for twenty years town clerk of West Greenwich, and for a few years after marriage they resided at Narragansett Pier, where he had a small farm and dealt in live stock. They later removed to West Greenwich, where the remaining years of their lives were spent. The children of Mr. and Mrs. Sweet were: William N., Arnold F., Caleb F., Charles B. and George B., all of whom, except William N., died in youth.

(VIII) William N. Sweet was born in West Greenwich, R. I., June 19, 1833. His education was secured in the district schools, supplemented by three terms' attendance at the East Greenwich Academy. In young manhood he took up the vocation of a teacher, and for many years was a popular and efficient educator in the schools of West Greenwich. In 1861 he was elected town clerk of his native town, and again in 1867 was chosen for the same office. In 1879 he was again honored, and for the twenty succeeding years was annually chosen, without opposition, to the office of town clerk, the requirements of which he possessed to an extraordinary degree. The records, accounts, etc., which he kept during his long term are considered among the best and most accurate of the State. In 1899 he resigned his office and declined further honor, since which time he has lived in retirement in his home in the village of Washington, town of Coventry. As an educator he is remembered most kindly by the generations whose education it was his pleasure to direct, and he is described as ever patient, kindly, efficient and worthy of the confidence imposed in him by pupil and parent.

On April 16, 1871, Mr. Sweet was married by the Rev. John Tillinghast, to Miss Abbie Ann Gorton, daughter of Benjamin Tillinghast and Alma (Greene) Gorton, an extensive article devoted to property he afterward bought, and continued engaged in the manufacturing business until the time of his death. One of his business associates was the late Welcome Stillman, who died only a few years previous to Mr. Brown's death.

At the time of his death Mr. Brown was associated in business with Thomas Clarke in operating the mills at Mystic, Conn., and at Milltown. He was also at that time associated with Oliver Langworthy in running the mill at Burdickville. Mr. Brown was a man of good judgment and a very successful business man. He had the makeup and disposition which enabled him to get along nicely with men generally, and was popular with all of his employes, having the faculty of making himself equally at home among all classes. Of a kind heart and generous disposition, he did much good in the community in a quiet, unostentatious way, contributing largely to the comfort of many of the needy. Mr. Brown represented probably as high a type of citizen as was to be found in Rhode Island. It is not too much to say of him that his untiring application, his cool, sound judgment, united to a high sense of personal honor, won for him a reputation to which he was justly entitled. But it is not this view of his life that we design especially to notice. There was an inner life, which, sanctified by Christian motives and chastened by suffering, shone brighter and brighter as flesh failed. With a heart ever responsive to the claims of the needy, he dispensed freely and that, too, in, the most quiet and delicate manner. Through a protracted season of suffering he was patient and submissive, and as the shadows thickened about him he was calm, reposing with childlike trust in the merits of a crucified Savior.

As intimated, for some time before his death, which occurred at his home in Westerly, R. I., Sept. 25, 1865, he had been quite an invalid. He left a widow and one daughter, Mrs. Brown occupying until her death the beautiful home in Westerly, where Mr. Brown lived and died, and which was her home from the time of her birth.

WELLS-BROWN (Westerly). The Wells, or Welles, family in England is of very ancient origin, clearly traceable back, it is claimed, to the time of the Norman Conquest, and of high rank in Normandy and England, with royal intermarriages for over seven centuries, when the title and estates merged into the Willoughby and Dymoke families. [See History of Welles Family in England, by Albert Welles, Boston, 1874.] About 1635 several families of the name, sometimes spelled Wells, but often Welles, emigrated from England to Massachusetts, some of these families to the eastern part of the State, others to Rhode Island, others to Hartford and other towns in Connecticut, and still others to Hatfield and Hadley in the western part of Massachusetts. We therefore find at a very early day, before 1660, persons bearing the name in many towns in New England. From this English source came over in 1636 Thomas Welles, who was the common ancestor of many of the Welles family in this country. This Thomas Welles was deputy-governor and also governor of Connecticut and prominent in that Commonwealth's Colonial history, and from him came a worthy race, many of his descendants becoming men of distinction, among whom was the statesman Hon. Gideon Welles, of Hartford, secretary of state in the cabinet of President Lincoln.

At Westerly, R. I., and in other neighboring towns, from the early settlement of that section there have lived some of the descendants of one Peter Wells of Jamestown and Kingstown, R. I. Of some of these this article treats, among them the late Oliver Dodge Wells and William D. Wells, long substantial men and prominent citizens of Westerly. The lineage of Oliver Dodge Wells follows in regular order from Peter Wells, his earliest known ancestor.

(I) Peter Wells, of Jamestown and Kingstown, R. I., was made a freeman in 1679, and was taxed in the following year. In 1687 he was taxed in Kingstown, and in 1702 he deeded a farm, upon which he then lived, of 100 acres to his son Peter. His death occurred in 1715. His children were: A daughter, born in May, 1667; Thomas, born in September, 1669; a daughter, born in December, 1672; a daughter, born in July, 1673; John, born in May, 1676; a daughter, born in January, 1678; a daughter, born in June, 1680; Peter, born in 1681; and Susanna, born in November, 1684.

(II) Peter Wells (2), of South Kingstown, son of Peter, born in 1681, married (first) Ann, daughter of John and Dorcas (Gardiner) Watson, and (second) Susanna Barker, widow of Peter, and daughter of Tobias and Mary (Clarke) Saunders. Mr. Wells was made a freeman of Kingstown in 1712 and at this date was called junior. He died in 1732. His will was proved Dec. 11th of that year, his son James being executor. The second Mrs. Wells survived him. His children were: James, born Sept. 30, 1706; Ann, born Oct. 20, 1708; Rebecca, born Dec. 30, 1710; Peter, born May 4, 1713; John, born April 14, 1716; Mary; Dorcas, born Sept. 17, 1720; and Samuel, born Feb. 2, 1725. All were born to the first marriage, there being no issue by the second.

(III) James Wells, of Westerly, son of Peter (2), born Sept. 30, 1706, married April 22, 1731, Mary Barber, and their children were: James, born Nov. 1, 1732; Barbara, born Aug. 1, 1734; Peter, born Aug. 29, 1737; Barker, born May 16, 1750; Joshua, born Aug. 24, 1753; and Thomas Robinson, born Oct. 20, 1755, in Hopkinton.

(IV) James Wells (2), son of James, born Nov. 1, 1732, married about 1757, and his children, all of Hopkinton record, were: Elizabeth, born Jan. 14, 1758; James, born Jan. 7, 1760; Robert, born Nov. 26, 1761; George, born Nov. 9, 1763; business, and on Feb. 12, 1868, took Mr. Open- w as a partner, the firm name then becoming Adam & Openshaw. This firm continued suc- fully in the plumbing business until February, 5, when Mr. Openshaw purchased his partner's rest and continued in the business until his th, his shop being located on Mill street, near corner of Pelham street.

Mr. Openshaw was an industrious, conscien- s, conservative business man, and, as the re- of close application to his interests, accumu- d a handsome competency. He was a Demo- t in his political belief, and served his ward in h branches of the city government, being a mem- of the common council in 1890-92, and of the rd of aldermen in 1894-95, and while in office ved as committeeman on Public Property, eets and Highways, Fire Department, Ordi- ces and Water Supply. He was a member of ious fraternal and beneficial orders, holding mbership in Rhode Island Lodge, No. 12, I. O. F., from 1869, of which he was at one time noble nd; he also belonged to Aquidneck Encamp- nt and the Rebekahs, having been one of the rter members of the latter; was a member of wport Lodge, B. P. O. E.; of the Foresters of erica; Knights of Honor; Knights and Ladies Honor; and of Roger Williams Lodge, Sons of George. In several of these organizations, how- r, his membership had been allowed to lapse.

Mr. Openshaw was married in 1860 to Mar- et Kelley, who survived him until 1905. To m were born eight children, seven of whom still vive: Edward William; Samuel R.; Esther A., wife of William H. Crowell, of Newport; Ella Albert B. H.; James M., and Sidney P. James enshaw died March 23, 1902, at his home on spect Hill street, Newport, after an illness ex- ding over a period of three years, during which e he had been obliged to remain within doors. was esteemed by all who knew him.

Edward William Openshaw was born in New- t, and after attending the public schools of the y entered the Rogers high school, where he con- ued his studies for one year. Leaving school at age of fourteen years he became apprenticed the plumber's trade in his father's shop, and er serving his apprenticeship continued in his her's employ until the latter's last illness, when was placed in charge of the business. There continued until his father's death, three years er, and then one year longer as administrator his father's estate. In 1903 Mr. Openshaw es- blished himself in business on his own account, ening the plumbing establishment at No. 26 ellevue avenue, which he has since successfully nducted, building up a steadily increasing busi- ess, and employing six first-class plumbers.

In political matters Mr. Openshaw is a Repub- can, though neutral in town affairs. In 1906, at e first election held under the new charter granted the city of Newport, Mr. Openshaw was elected a member of the representative council from the Fourth ward for the two-year term. He is a director in the Newport Realty Company, a director in the Builders' and Merchants' Exchange, and a member of the city board of examining plumbers. Mr. Openshaw attends the Emmanuel Episcopal Church, of which his wife is a member, and to which he gives liberal support.

Mr. Openshaw was married Sept. 26, 1886, to Katherine Gyer, daughter of Jacob Gyer, of Richfield Springs, N. Y. Mr. Openshaw is achieving success in his chosen line through strict adherence to business-like principles.

BURDICK. The late Charles Henry Burdick, who was one of Newport's leading and influential citizens, was a member of the old Rhode Island Burdick family, which has been identified with the history of the Colony and the Commonwealth, respectively, for 250 and more years.

Robert Burdick, the progenitor of the Rhode Island Burdicks, is first of record at Newport, when baptized there, Nov. 19, 1652. His marriage to Ruth, daughter of Samuel and Tacy (Cooper) Hubbard, occurred Nov. 2, 1655. He became a freeman of the Colony at Newport in 1656, but removed to Westerly before 1661. His name was in a list of inhabitants there in 1669, and he took the oath of allegiance in 1671. His service as deputy in 1680, 1683 and 1685 is an evidence of his standing and capability. His death occurred in 1692, his wife dying the year before. Their ten children were: Robert, of Westerly, married Dorcas Lewis; a son, whose name is unknown, died in 1683; Hubbard married Hannah Maxson, and was of Westerly and Hopkinton; Thomas, of Westerly, married (first) Martha, and (second) Penelope Rhodes; Naomi married Jonathan Rogers; Ruth married John Phillips; Benjamin, of Westerly, married (first) Mary, and (second) Mrs. Jane Shelley, a widow; Samuel, of Westerly, married Mary; Tacy married Joseph Maxson; Deborah married Joseph Crandall. The name has been perpetuated through Hubbard, Benjamin and Samuel Burdick. Of these,

Benjamin Burdick was a deacon in the Seventh Day Baptist Church, and from the records of the old Rockville Church of that denomination it is evident that many of the descendants of the settler continued in the faith; many, too, held membership in the ancient and interesting old Sabbatarian Church. In this connection it is worthy of note that from the Hopkinton branch of this old Westerly family came one of the most useful and popular men in the ministry of his day in Rhode Island. Reference is made to Rev. John S. Burdick, born in that part of Westerly that became Hopkinton, in 1732, son of Samuel H. Burdick. He was chosen a deacon in the Sabbatarian Church there in 1774; became an elder, and in 1793 was ordained pastor. Elder Buring, and there died in January, 1906, unmarried.

(VII) Esther Sprague Steere, third daughter and fifth child of William W. and Elizabeth Steere, was married Jan. 10, 1861, to Benjamin Parker Smith, born July 6, 1836, at Georgiaville, town of Smithfield, R. I., son of Jenckes Appleby and Patience J. (Parker) Smith.

Benjamin Parker Smith spent his early life in his native town, and when a young man was associated with his father and brother, Jenckes Smith, Jr., in the butchering business at Greenville. In 1860 they came to Providence and engaged in the market, dry goods and grocery business on the corner of Dean street and Atwells avenue, under the firm name of Jenckes A. Smith & Sons. The firm did a large business, and the partners became successful. A few years later the health of Mr. Benjamin P. Smith failed, and he withdrew from the firm, and from that time until about a dozen years previous to his death he lived retired. He died June 13, 1881, and was buried at Georgiaville. Mr. Smith was a man of Christian character and upright morals, and lived to command the respect of all who knew him. Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Smith as follows: William Jenckes, March 21, 1862, resides at Chicago; he married Nettie Slocum, and they have four children: Raymond Parker, Esther May, William Jenckes and Ruth Marie. Mary Esther, born Jan. 19, 1871, was married Jan. 1, 1906, to Arthur C. Phillips, of Providence, and has one child, Dorothy May, born Oct. 8, 1906.

Mrs. Benjamin P. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Phillips reside on Bainbridge avenue, Providence.

CRANDALL. The family name of Crandall is derived from the Welsh words kren, meaning round, or crans, meaning wood, and dol or dal, meaning vale.

(I) Elder John Crandall, a Baptist minister, of Newport and Westerly, R. I., it is stated by the family, came from Wales to Boston in 1634-35. He was arrested at Lynn, July 21, 1651, and suffered imprisonment at Boston, was fined £5, and publicly whipped for his attachment to the Baptist cause. He fled to Rhode Island in 1637. He was early associated with the Baptists at Newport, and was there made a freeman in 1655. He became the first elder and preacher in Westerly, where his name is the first in the list of "free inhabitants," 1669. He was commissioner in 1658, and several times thereafter, and was Deputy from Newport in 1667, and from Westerly in 1670-71. He was one of the first Conservators of the Peace of Westerly, 1670, and exercised the duties of the office for ten years. Elder Crandall officiated in Westerly as a member of the Newport Church, a distinct organization not being set up in Westerly until long after his death. Elder Crandall was well calculated both by talents and sufferings to lead his people in their devotions. He took an active part in the border difficulties between Massachusetts and Connecticut, and subsequently between Connecticut and Rhode Island, concerning the lines between the States. He was twice married. His second wife, Hannah, died in 1678. His own death occurred in 1676. He was a man "who in all stations and under all circumstances, however adverse, stood up nobly and boldly for the truth." His children were: John; James; Jane, who married Job Babcock; Sarah, who married Josiah Witter; Peter, whose wife's name was Mary; Joseph, who married Deborah Burdick; Samuel, who married Sarah Colby (or Celbey); Jeremiah; and Eber.

(II) John Crandall (2), son of Elder John, married June 18, 1672, Elizabeth Gorton, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Gorton, and was of Newport and Kings Town. Mr. Crandall was a blacksmith by trade and occupation. He was a freeman in 1671. His children were: John, Peter, Samuel, Elizabeth and Mary.

(II) Peter Crandall, son of Elder John, married Mary ———, and was of Westerly. He resided on the Pawcatuck river on the old road leading towards Potter Hill, where he had a mill, the first and only one then in the town. Crandall's mill was a kind of a boundary, or standpoint, for years, and is frequently mentioned in deeds and other legal documents. He was Deputy in 1699, 1700, 1701-04. He was a lieutenant in the military and held other public offices. Both he and his wife died in 1734. They had a daughter and one son, Peter.

(II) Elder Joseph Crandall, son of Elder John, married (first) Deborah Burdick, and was of Newport, Westerly, Kingstown and Newport, respectively. Mr. Crandall became a very useful man, and filled the desk in the church at Newport to the great satisfaction of its members for many years. He was called to the office of Elder there, and ordained May 8, 1715. During his administration the church was at the height of its prosperity, many of the most wealthy and influential citizens being among its members. Mr. Thomas Ward, whose father, John Ward, of Gloucester, England, had been an officer in Cromwell's army, and came to New England about the time of Charles II; also Richard Ward and Samuel Ward, of Westerly, father, son and grandson, who each became governor of Rhode Island, were included in the list of members. Elder Crandall died Sept. 12, 1737. His children were: John; Joseph, who married Ann Langworthy; Mary, who married Nathaniel Wells; Deborah, who married Dr. George Stillman; Lucy, who married John Lewis; Jane who married Cyrus Richmond; and Lydia.

(II) Samuel Crandall, son of Elder John, born in 1663, married Sarah Celey, and was of Newport, and Little Compton, R. I. They died, he in 1736, and she in 1758. Their children were:

Samuel, born Oct. 30, 1686; Mary, born May 17, 1689; Jane, born Aug. 23, 1692; John, born Jan. 11, 1695; Peter, born Oct. 25, 1697; Joseph, born Nov. 28, 1701; and Thomas, born July 27, 1707.

(II) Jeremiah Crandall, son of Elder John, by his second marriage, married Priscilla Warner, daughter of John and Ann (Gorton) Warner, and was of Newport and Westerly. They died, he in 1718, and she in 1750. Their children were: Jeremiah, Ann, John, Hannah, James, Sarah, Experience, Patience, Susannah and Mary.

(II) Eber Crandall, son of Elder John, born in 1676, married (second) a Lanphere, and (third) Mary Cottrell, and was of Newport and Westerly, R. I. His children by the second wife were: John, Eber, Samuel and Joseph; and those by the third were: Mary, Nathaniel and Jonathan.

(III) Joseph Crandall (2), son of Elder Joseph, married, Feb. 15, 1715, Ann Langworthy, and they had children: Joseph, born Jan. 21, 1716, married (first) Elizabeth Lewis and (second) Martha ———; James, born May 12, 1719, married (first) Demaris Kenyon, and (second) Mrs. Elizabeth Saunders; William, born Aug. 6, 1721, married Deborah Crandall, and died in 1796; Simeon, born Jan. 15, 1724, married Mary Sweet; Joshua (3), born Oct. 15, 1727; Ezekiel, born Nov. 21, 1730; Ann, born July 2, 1733, married James Rhodes; and Benjamin, born Nov. 20, 1736, married Alice Kenyon.

(IV) Joseph Crandall (3), son of Joseph (2), was born Jan. 21, 1716, and was town clerk of Westerly, thirty years. He was twice married, first to Elizabeth Lewis, and second to Martha ——. His children were: Jonathan, born Feb. 6, 1739; Phineas, born April 16, 1743; Anna, born Aug. 23, 1745; Elijah, born Jan. 17, 1747; Joseph, born Feb. 17, 1751; and Elisha, born in 1756.

(V) Phineas Crandall, son of Joseph (3), was born April 16, 1743, and died April 27, 1821. He married (first) Ruth, daughter of David and Grace (Lester) Rogers, and they had seven children, namely: Silas, born in 1768, married Rebecca Beebe; Grace, born in 1769, married David Stillman; Rogers, born in 1772, married Mrs. Lucy (Potter) Barber; Esther, born Aug. 17, 1775, married Maxson Stillman; Ruth, born Feb. 28, 1778; Lydia, born in 1781, married Russell Wells; and Ezekiel, born in 1783. He married (second) Hopestill Beebe, who died Aug. 25, 1853. To this marriage came children as follows: Desire, born in 1786; Lucinda, born in 1790; Phineas, born in 1793; Lester, born in 1796; and Eliza, born in 1802.

(VI) Ezekiel Crandall, son of Phineas, was born in 1783, and he lived in the town of Hopkinton at Tomequang Valley, until 1826-27, when he removed to Genesee, Alleghany Co., N. Y., becoming one of the pioneers of that section, and there he lived the rest of his life, dying in 1855. He worked at shoemaking. He married Susan Wells, daughter of Samuel and Susan (Potter) Wells, and they had children: Henry Clinton, born July 16, 1809, married Lucinda Ennis; Samuel W., born March 10, 1813, died March 29, 1816; Susan W., born May 29, 1816, married Orra Stillman; Ezekiel Rogers, born June 26, 1820; Eliza, born Nov. 17, 1822, married Joseph Boss; George Potter, born March 23, 1825, died April 28, 1828; and William Wells, born March 23, 1825, married E. Euphemia Potter.

(VII) Ezekiel Rogers Crandall, son of Ezekiel, was born June 26, 1820, and he still resides on the farm which was cleared by his father, and there he has engaged in farming and lumbering. He has been active in public affairs, and has been county supervisor, and justice of the peace. In politics he is a Republican. He has been a member of the Seventh Day Baptist Church at Genesee, N. Y., since it was organized. On Feb. 17, 1844, he married (first) N. Celestia Burdick, daughter of Joanne Polly (Wilcox) Burdick. He married (second) Amy Lackey, daughter of Palermo and Eunice (Edwards) Lackey. His children were: Ira B., born May 11, 1846, married Sardinia Hall, daughter of Benjamin S. and Lydia (Wells) Hall; Mary S., born Aug. 6, 1850, married Maxson A. Crandall, of Independence, N. Y.; and Frances E., born Oct. 16, 1854, married Orlando J. Warren, deceased, of North Cuba, New York.

(VIII) IRA B. CRANDALL, son of Ezekiel Rogers, was born at Genesee, N. Y., May 11, 1846, and he spent his early school days in his native town and at Alfred University, N. Y. In 1867 Mr. Crandall came to Weserly, R. I., and for five years worked for Joseph H. Potter in the clothing store. In 1872 he engaged in the clothing business with Orville Stillman on High street, in Westerly, continuing for about sixteen years—until 1886—under the firm name of I. B. Crandall & Co. Then Mr. Stillman retired from the business, and in October, 1903, it became The I. B. Crandall Company. Mr. Crandall has been a member of the town council, and in 1898 was president of that body. In 1890 he was elected to the General Assembly of Rhode Island from Westerly, serving two years. He was a member of the Seventh Day Baptist Church at Genesee, and after coming to Westerly became connected with the Pawcatuck Seventh Day Church, and is its treasurer. He is a member of the Royal Arcanum. Mr. Crandall married Sardinia E. Hall, daughter of Benjamin S. and Lydia (Wells) Hall, and they have one daughter, Caroline M., born in 1872.

(IV) William Crandall, son of Joseph (2), born Aug. 6, 1721, died 1796. He married, March 12, 1746, Deborah Crandall. They were lifelong residents of Westerly. They had children: Anstress, born Feb. 18, 1748-49; William, born Oct. 8, 1751; Henry, born Jan. 7, 1754; Ruhamah, born May 26, 1756; Rhoda, born July 27, 1758;

Arnold, born Oct. 24, 1763; Barney, born Oct. 11, 1765; Stennett, born Nov. 1, 1767; and Joel, born Jan. 19, 1771.

(V) Henry Crandall, son of William, born Jan. 7, 1754, was married (first) July 17, 1777, by Peter Crandall, to Elizabeth, daughter of Abijah and Mary (Auchmady) Crandall. They had one child, Lydia, born March 8, 1779. He married (second) Feb. 24, 1782, Mary, daughter of Major Silas Greenman, and she bore him children as follows: William, born Dec. 28, 1782, married (first) Lydia Greenman, and (second) Nabby Cornell; Betsey, born Dec. 24, 1785, married James Reeves; Henry; Hannah, born Nov. 26, 1787; and Timothy, born Sept. 7, 1790. Between 1787-1790 Henry Crandall removed with his family to Petersburg, New York.

(VI) William Crandall, son of Henry, was born Dec. 28, 1782. He went to DeRuyter, N. Y., and bought a farm in the woods and cleared it up, making the trip on horseback, and taking his wife behind him on a pillion. During later years he lived on the adjoining farm with his son William G. He adhered to the Seventh Day Baptist Church. He married Lydia Greenman, at Petersburg, N. Y., and they had children: William G., born July 11, 1806, married (first) Eliza Ann Maxson, and (second) Jane Stillman; Varnum, born in 1809, married Julia Mackee; Jonathan, born July 18, 1811, married (first) Emma Stillman, (second) Mrs. Lorena Johnson, and died Jan. 26, 1894; Darwin S., born in 1816, married Alzina Babcock; Polly; and Lydia Jane, born June 27, 1821, married Dwight Crumb.

(VII) Jonathan Crandall, son of William, was born at De Ruyter, N. Y., July 18, 1811. He was a home-loving boy, and a good help to his mother, who had not the rugged constitution so necessary to pioneer women. He married (first) Emma Stillman, born Sept. 27, 1814, daughter of Jesse and Esther (Maxson) Stillman. She died Feb. 27, 1861, the mother of the following family: Julia, born Oct. 8, 1834, married Roswell A. Crandall, and resides at Milton Junction, Wis.; Cornelia Jane (deceased), born Feb. 27, 1837, married A. O. Wells, who met with an accidental death Oct. 8, 1905, at Leonardsville, N. Y., by falling from a wagon; Orcelia, born Jan. 1, 1838, married (first) Benjamin Chapman, (second) Mr. Bowman, and resides at Findlay's Lake, N. Y.; Albert Newell, born May 6, 1841, married Mary M. St. John (sketch follows); Luman E., born Aug. 9, 1843, died Oct. 6, 1843; Judson L., born Jan. 6, 1845, married Mary J. Netherwood, and resides at Westerly, R. I.; Elizabeth Adelia, born June 9, 1848, died July 26, 1850; William H., born April 2, 1851, resides at Westerly, R. I.; and Herman E., born Sept. 20, 1859, married Mary E. Whitford, and resides at New Britain, Connecticut.

(VIII) Albert Newell Crandall, son of Jonathan, born May 6, 1841, at De Ruyter, N. Y., spent his boyhood days there, and attended the district school across the line in the town of Lincoln. At the age of twelve years he went to Brookfield, N. Y. In 1859 he came to Westerly, R. I., and began working for C. Maxson & Co., with whom he continued for twenty years. In 1879 he went into the building business at No. 57 Main street, under the firm name of Randolph, Bentley & Co. In July, 1900, he discontinued active business in the building line, selling out to R. A. Sherman. Ever since coming to Westerly he has been a member of the Pawcatuck Seventh Day Baptist Church, and is president of its board of trustees. Mr. Crandall served in the 9th R. I. Volunteers in the War of the Rebellion, and he was at one time in command of a battalion in the militia. Mr. Crandall was married in Leonardsville (Brookfield), N. Y., Jan. 19, 1870, by the Rev. L. C. Rogers, to Mary M. St. John, daughter of Milton Wilcox and Mary (Babcock) St. John. This union was blessed with three children: Milton Albert, born Oct. 1, 1872; Emma, born March 2, 1881; and Willard Raymond, born Nov. 29, 1894. Mr. Crandall is a member of Franklin Lodge, A. F. & A. M., of Westerly. He is a stanch Republican, but is by no means an office seeker.

(IX) Milton A. Crandall, son of Albert Newell, spent his school days in Westerly, graduating from the high school in 1890, after which he attended Union College for two years. He then worked with his father, and in 1900 engaged in business for himself. He is now located in Grand Junction, Colorado.

WILLIAM PIERCE NICHOLS, a representative citizen of the town of Burrillville, R. I., who is manager and superintendent of the Mohegan mill, at Mohegan, is a member of one of Rhode Island's oldest and most honored families, being a descendant in the eighth generation from Thomas Nichols.

(I) Thomas Nichols, of Newport, R. I., married Hannah, born Dec. 17, 1642. On Oct. 31, 1677, he and Clement Weaver, George Vaughan, Thomas Fry, Giles Peirce, John Gorton and John Holden, with forty-one others, for services rendered during King Philip's war were granted 5,000 acres to be called East Greenwich, at which place Mr. Nichols died. His children were: Thomas, born Aug. 6, 1660, married Mercy Reynolds; Susannah, born Oct. 15, 1662, married Thomas Hazard; John, born April 16, 1666, married Hannah, born Aug. 7, 1674; Robert, born Nov. 22, 1671, married Mary Case; Hannah, born Aug. 7, 1674, married William Arnold; Benjamin, born Jan. 28, 1676; Jonathan, born June 16, 1681, married Elizabeth Lawton; Joseph, born April 18, 1684; and Elizabeth, born June 14, 1688, married Gideon Freeborn.

(II) Benjamin Nichols, son of Thomas, was born Jan. 28, 1676. On May 27, 1709, he and JOSEPH² REYNOLDS (*James*¹) was born in Plymouth Colony, Nov. 6, 1652 and died in North Kingstown, June ..., 1739. He married in ...., about 1672, ..., born in ...., 165.. died in North Kingstown, ..., 17..., daughter of .... and .... (........) ....; married (2) in ...., ..., 170.., Mercy ......, born in ...., ... 167..., died in Exeter, ..., 176.. daughter of ....and ...... (......) ....

Of the first wife nothing definite is known, never-the-less, on account of the persistent use of the name in the families of her descendants, the author believes that her given name was Mary and that she introduced the name Robert into the Reynolds family.

About the time of his first marriage, he settled on the Great Plain four miles west from Wickford, and there is a tradition that when King Philip's War broke out on June 24, 1675, a friendly squaw informed him of the impending danger so that he was able to escape to Wickford with his wife and two children. The Indians came later to his home and ripped open the feather beds, thinking they might find something valuable hidden in them, and emptying the contents on the ground "made it look as though there had been a snow storm."

July 29, 1679, he signed the petition to the King.

July 14, 1687, he and others were concerned in a dispute over the grass-lands in the French or Huguenot settlement.

Sep. 6, 1687, he was taxed 5s, 10d.

May 5, 1696, he was admitted freeman of the Colony.

Mar. 6, 1698-9, he was chosen on the Grand Jury.

Mar. 14, 1702-3, he receipted to his brother James for the legacy left to him by his father James Reynolds lately deceased.

June 3, 1709, the Colony Agents deeded to Joseph Reynolds, Joseph Reynolds, Jr., Robert Reynolds and William Bentley, 727 acres, as platted etc., bounded N. on the new road, S. by the Pettaquamscott Line, E. by the road leading to East Greenwich and W. by the vacant land, for ...... and Six Pounds. Like many other "squatters," these men had no deeds to the lands on which they had lived many years, therefore to establish legal records and ownerships, the Colony deeded such lands to such owners for a nominal fee.

Jan. 25, 1712, Joseph Reynolds and Robert Reynolds deeded to James Bentley all right in the land now in the possession of James Bentley, the same being part of the land laid down to the Bentleys.

.... 1712, Joseph Reynolds and Robert Reynolds deeded to John Reynolds 255 acres of land bounded, E. on a highway, S. by the N. W. Pettaquamscott Line, W. by the said Robert Reynolds, N. by the lands of Jeremiah Sweet and James Bentley.

Mar. 8, 1713-4, John Reynolds assigned the 255 acres back to his father Joseph Reynolds. This assignment and the above deeds show how separate ownerships were established.

Mar. 8, 1713-4, Joseph Reynolds and Mercy his wife conditionally deeded to son John Reynolds the above described 255 acres, the consideration being love and affection.

Mar. 8, 1713-4, agreement of John Reynolds with Joseph Reynolds, Sr., whereby John Reynolds is bound and obliged to his father Joseph Reynolds, Sr., and his mother-in-law (meaning stepmother) Mercy Reynolds .... hundred pounds current Money of New England, this eighth day of March, 1713, whereas Joseph Reynolds hath given to his said son John Reynolds a parcel of land containing by estimation two hundred .... acres as appears by deed bearing date March 8, 1713, has bound himself during his father's natural life to suffer no damage to said land either by letting out the land or absenting himself so that he shall have no just cause to complain.

From the above documents, it is evident that there were two dwelling houses on the 255-acre tract as early as 1712 and that Joseph Reynolds, Sr., and his family occupied one of the houses and that John Reynolds and his family occupied the other.

Sep. 1, 1714, he purchased from his brother Henry Reynolds ¼ of a share in the new purchase in East Greenwich.

Sep. 29, 1714, he deeded to his son Benjamin Reynolds of Kingstown ½ of the above land.

Aug. 27, 1717, he deeded to his son James Reynolds, late of Kingstown, the remaining ½ of the above land.

No further public records are to be found relating to Joseph Reynolds, Sr., until June 24, 1730, the date on which he made his will. As parts of the will are illegible, the following facts are given to assist in deciphering the said document. At this time Joseph Reynolds, Sr., was still living in one of the two houses on the 255-acre tract, his family consisting of himself and wife, youngest daughter Alice who was sickly, and son Robert 2nd who was about 12 years old, he being not only the youngest son but also the youngest child in the family. Son John Reynolds was living in the other house, his family consisting of himself and wife and the following children, Hannah, John, Benjamin, Jonathan and Elizabeth, Mary and Joseph not yet having been born.

All of the sons had married excepting Robert 2nd. Joseph and Robert had died. Assistance had been given to Joseph, Robert, James, Benjamin and John (deed still conditional), no assistance having yet been given to sons Samuel, Clement and Robert 2nd. All of the daughters had married excepting Alice. Deborah and Hannah probably had died.

John Reynolds owned a farm of about 140 acres lying partly in East Greenwich but mostly in North Kingstown. It was so divided that the northeast part contained about 47 acres, the northwest part about 47 acres and the south part about 47 acres.

June 24, 1730, or before, John Reynolds and wife Hannah deeded to his father the south 47 acres. The record of this deed has not been found, but see the following deeds, and statement in will.

June 24, 1730, John Reynolds and wife Hannah deeded to Clement Reynolds the northeast 47 acres and to Samuel Reynolds the northwest 47 acres, both parcels being bounded on the south by the land of his honored father Joseph Reynolds, the consideration in each case being £53.

Undoubtedly Joseph Reynolds paid for the lands deeded to his sons Clement and Samuel, thus showing how these sons received considerable of his estate as stated in his will, dated June 24, 1730, by which will son Robert 2nd was willed the south 47 acres.

June 24, 1730, Joseph Reynolds and wife Mercy gave an unconditional deed of the above mentioned 255 acres of land to son John Reynolds, reserving 40 acres with house and orchard thereon during the widowhood or life of wife Mercy Reynolds. Mercy Reynolds, widow, was taxed 5d in Exeter, October 22, 1762.

On the same day, but after arranging the above matters, still being the owner of the south 47 acres obtained from his son John by agreement purchase and still being in possession of his house and orchard and 40 acres adjoining, Joseph Reynolds executed the following will, the dotted letters and words being supplied by the author.

Inventory was taken, June ...; 1739. Robert Spencer and John Reynolds, Jr., appeared Sep. 1, 1739, and made oath to the inventory. Sep. 11, 1739, the last will of Joseph Reynolds was exhibited, proved and administration granted to Mercy Reynolds. Witnesses William Hall, Benjamin ....nelly made oath Sep. ..., 1739 & that at same time Jacob Marshall also signed as witness. Will was recorded Sep. 13, 1739.

Notes: The words "not having issue" were interlined so that Robert's death before becoming of age would not prevent his children from inheriting his property. The last daughter to whom ——— pounds and eight shillings were bequeathed undoubtedly was Susanna Clark. The surname of daughter Mary appears to be short and to begin with B. It is very possible that the name Bentley was spelled Bently.

THE THIRD GENERATION

JOSEPH^3 REYNOLDS (Joseph^2, James^1) was born in (North) Kingstown about 1673 and died in (North) Kingstown, Apr. .., 1722. He married in Westerly about 1696, Susannah Babcock, born in Westerly, ..., 167., died in Exeter, ..., 174., daughter of John and Mary (Lawton) Babcock. She married (2) in East Greenwich, Nov. 7, 1723, Robert Spencer by whom she had no children, she being his third wife.

Oct. 15, 1692, he was deeded by his uncle James Reynolds, Jr., the east 100 acres of the original James Reynolds, Sr., homestead, said deed being conditional that the said James Reynolds, Jr., have no issue, and with the reservation of life-lease for himself and wife Mary.

The homestead of Joseph Reynolds, Jr., was the triangular tract of land lying west of the road running south from Exeter Hill, containing about 133 acres and located in the Reynolds and Bentley Purchase.

May 6, 1712, he was admitted freeman of Kingstown.

June 12, 1713, he and wife Susannah sold to Jonathan Hill of Prudence Island, the above mentioned 100 acres of land for £300 current money of New England.

...., 1713, he purchased from his brother Robert Reynolds, 200 acres of land lying to the west of his homestead farm.

Mar. 13, 1717-8, he purchased from Thomas Eldred, Sr., 100 acres of land lying to the west of his homestead farm, consideration £38.

This means that, at the time of his death, Joseph Reynolds, Jr., was possessed of his homestead farm of 133 acres, the 200 acres purchased from his brother and the 100 acres purchased from Thomas Eldred, Sr.

At the time of making his will, daughter Elizabeth had married James Rogers and son Joseph had married Sarah .... and had had issue.

In his will dated Apr. 6, 1721 (8th year of George I), proved Apr. ...., 1722, he gave to eldest son Joseph the west half of the 200 acre farm. To son John the east half of the 200 acre farm, a yoke of oxen and 2 cows. To wife Susannah the occupancy and use of the homestead farm and the 100 acre farm, the said farms in due course to be divided equally between the two younger sons George and Samuel, the understanding being that the son who should have the improved end of one farm should have the unimproved end of the other farm. To daughter Elizabeth Rogers £20. To daughters Susannah, Deborah and Mary, to each one £20, a bed and furniture therefor. Wife Susannah and brother Job Babcock to be executors.

Dec. ... 1723, John Reynolds, aged 17, and George Reynolds, sons of Joseph Reynolds, deceased, asked that the Council appoint their uncle John Reynolds and John Albro to be their guardians. Their request was granted and the Council also appointed the same men to be the guardians of Samuel Reynolds.

Apr. 13, 1733, by agreement, with his brother Samuel, George Reynolds took the eastern part of his father's homestead and the western part of the 100 acre farm.

Children, born in (North) Kingstown:

Recs. II:483.) We do not know the name of his wife. Children were:

2. John^{3}, mentioned in will of James^{1} Reynolds, evidently died before June 4, 1699, when ratification deed as to earlier assignment by James^{1} to son John^{2} was only made out to Sarah^{3}.*

3. Sarah^{3}, m. Thomas Ayres of Kingstown, R. I.; is mentioned in will of James^{1} Reynolds. Probably a widow before the date of the ratification deed to her, or else her husband would have been named in it. Probable children were:

4. A daughter, b. Nov. 8, 1696.

5. Sarah, b. May 8, 1698.‡

8. JAMES^{2}, b. Oct. 28, 1650; d. before 1712, since Joseph^{3} then sold property granted him by this James of which Joseph was only to get possession after the grantor's decease if the grantor died without issue.¶ It would seem that no children survived James; see discussion in full on page 92 herein. Married twice. m. 1st: Feb. 19, 1684-5, Mary Greene, dau. James and Deliverance (Potter) Greene of Warwick, R. I. and had a son:

9. James^{3}, b. Feb. 20, 1686; d. before Oct. 15, 1692, when his father, said James^{2}, made the conditional deed to Joseph^{2} Reynolds.

11. HENRY^{2}, b. Jan. 1, 1656; d. early 1716 in East Greenwich since on April 28, 1716, in a recorded agreement between his widow and her children as to his estate he is referred to as "lately deceased."* m. about 1685 Sarah Greene, daughter of James and Deliverance (Potter) Greene of Warwick, R. I., and therefore a sister of Mary Greene, first wife of James^{2} Reynolds, and a half sister of Elizabeth Greene, wife of Francis^{2} Reynolds.§

12. Henry^{3}, b. July 31, 1686, in East Greenwich; d. Nov. 5, 1726; m. March 7, 1709, in East Greenwich, Mary Jenkins, daughter of Zachariah of East Greenwich. By the terms of tho above agreement as to his father's estate he received his father' farm which lay just across the Potowomut River from the northeast end of the original James^{1} Reynolds' homestead, but sold it shortly on Feb. 7, 1716-7 to Jabez Greene. After that he moved away, it is thought to South Kingstown. On April 30, 1717, "Henry Reynolds of East Greenwich was admitted freeman."¶ There undoubtedly were several children, but only the record of one son has been established which is here given:

13. John^{4}, b. Sept. 10, 1710, in Kingstown; d. Aug. 18, 1794, in Exeter; m. Oct. 24, 1748, Abigail Sherman, b. March 22, 1714; d. July 30, 1798. He was known as "John Reynolds, Tailor," to distinguish him from all the other John Reynolds. He is so designated in the 1774 Census, published elsewhere in this 1922 R. F. A. Report. He lived first in South Kingstown and later in Exeter where his will is recorded.‖

These records may refer to a John^{4}, son of John^{3} (of Henry^{2}) Reynolds above.

There follows an inventory which is quite illegible except for the statement that it is:

An inventory of the moveable Estate of -------- Raynolds Deceased who departed ---------------- of June, A.D. 1739.

£428 --------

(Signed) ROBERT SPENCER,
JOHN REYNOLDS, JUN.

The witnesses appeared and the will was proved on Sept. 11, 1739. The will was recorded on Sept. 13, 1739.

Robert Spencer, who signed the inventory, had married the widow of Joseph's^2 eldest son Joseph^3, and John Reynolds, Jun., was a son of the said Joseph^3.

Children of Joseph^2 Reynolds and his first wife were Nos. 125, 126, 129, 140, 160, 165, 167, 189, 192 following:*

125. JOSEPH^3, b. about 1672-3, in Kingstown, R. I.; d. April, 1722, in North Kingstown, R. I.; m. about 1696, Susannah Babcock, daughter of John and Mary (Lawton) Babcock, of Westerly, R. I. See p. 92 for history and children of Joseph^3.

126. DEBORAH^3, b. about 1673-4, in Kingstown, R. I.; m. about 1695, Job Babcock, a brother of Joseph's^3 wife Susannah.

129. ROBERT^3, b. about 1676-7; d. early in 1715-6, in North Kingstown, R. I., since his will was proved March 12, 1715-6, and he had executed a codicil to his will earlier in the same year. m. about 1700, Deliverance Smith, b. about 1684, daughter of Jeremiah and Mary (Gereardy) Smith, of Portsmouth (Prudence Island), R. I. She was left £100 and a silver cup in her father's will dated March 19, 1716.‡ She m. (2) July 6, 1718, in South Kingstown, Joseph Tefft.

130. Robert^4, b. about 1702. This Robert^4 sold his father's land in the 727 acre purchase to his uncle John^3 Reynolds.¶

131. Mary^4, b. Feb. 5, 1704.

132. Deborah^4, b. about 1708.

133. John^4, b. about 1712; d. after 1756. m. Susannah Sheldon, b. Oct. 23, 1720, daughter of Isaac and Susannah (Potter) Sheldon, of South Kingstown.

"John Reynolds, son of Robert, of North Kingstown" was admitted freeman April 30, 1734§. He moved to South Kingstown. Some of his descendants lived in Essex, Vermont.

135. Susannah^5.

* The order in which the children of Joseph^2 are listed, after the first three, follows in a general way the order in which they are named in Joseph^2's will. It seems reasonably certain that the sons were all born of the first wife except Robert 2nd^3, but the allocation of the daughters to the first or second wife is more or less guesswork.

140. JAMES^3, b* —. Oct. 7, 1705,¶ Sarah --------. The date of this marriage makes it necessarily refer to James^3, of Joseph^2, James^2 died without leaving issue, and the sons named James of Henry^2 and Francis^2 were both too young to marry in 1705.

He bought land in West Greenwich from his father in 1717 as has been shown.‖

He is named in his father's will at the head of the list of surviving sons in 1730.

141. Ch.: James^4, b. Feb. 12, 1705-6, in North Kingstown.§ m. Oct. 25, 1725-6, in East Greenwich, Alice Spink, b. Nov. 7, 1705, daughter of Ishmael and Deliverance (Hall) Spink, of East and West Greenwich, and granddaughter of Robert Spink, one of the first settlers in Quidnesett with James^1 Reynolds.[a]

"James Reynolds, Jr., of East Greenwich," was admitted freeman May 2, 1727.[b] This must refer to a son of the James^3 (of Joseph^2) because James^3 (of Henry^2) was under age in 1716, and James^3 (of Francis^2) only married in 1717, so that neither of them could have had a James, Jr., old enough to be a freeman in 1727.

142. William^4, m. Sept. 18, 1729, in East Greenwich,[c] Deborah Greene, dau. of Benjamin, dec'd. This record specifies "William Reynolds, son of James," and only James^3 (of Joseph^2) could have had a son old enough to marry in 1729. William and Deborah lived in West Greenwich where were born:

143. Sarah^5, b. March 31, 1730.
144. Caleb^5, b. June 21, 1731.
145. David^5, b. June 17, 1734.
146. Griffin^5, b. June 11, 1737.
147. Benjamin^5, b. Oct. 25, 1740.

152. Ann^4, b. Oct. 9, 1719, in East Greenwich.[d] She m.[e]

153. Mercy^4, b. July 6, 1722, in East Greenwich.[d] She m.[f]

236. *GEORGE⁴, b. Aug. 14, 1708, in North Kingstown, R. I.; m. Sept. 14, 1729, in North Kingstown, R. I., Joanna Spencer, b. Sept. 30, 1711, daughter of Robert and Theodosia (Whaley) Spencer. On Nov. 7, 1723, her father married George⁴ Reynolds' mother as has been noted.

By agreement with his brother Samuel⁴, dated April 13, 1733, as to the land left them by their father's will, George⁴ took the eastern part of his father's homestead farm, and the west part of the 100 acres which had been bought from Thomas Eldred.‡

He lived all his life in Exeter (part of North Kingstown before 1742) where he is frequently mentioned in the town records and held various town offices.

On July 6, 1749, he brought in an account as administrator of the estate of his father-in-law and step-father, Robert Spencer, who had died in 1748.¶

In 1766 George and Joanna Reynolds are in the list of members of the Exeter Baptist Church.‖

On May 5, 1747, "George Reynolds, of Exeter," took the oath against bribery and corruption, and in the list of freemen.

There is a list of children born to "George and Joanna Reynolds" in the Exeter records, beginning with the year following the organization of the town, but as George and Joanna were married in 1729 there must have been several born earlier. This is practically proved by the fact that George's⁴ brother, Samuel⁴, in his will dated Sept. 9, 1739, made a bequest "to the eldest sons of my brothers George and John Reynolds."

237. Robert⁵, m. Jan. 20, 1757, in Exeter,[a] Eunice Waite. In the Exeter Tax List of 1762, "Robert Reynolds, son of George," is taxed £0-6-6. In 1766 Eunice Reynolds is in list of members of the Exeter Baptist Church, but as Robert's name does not appear there he had probably died by that time.‖

* There was a George Reynolds of Westerly admitted freeman on Feb., 1727-8 who may possibly have been George⁴ above, since we can find no other record of his admission as such, and we know his mother's family, the Babcocks, came from Westerly. R. I. Col. Recs, Vol. 4, p. 399. However, it is more likely that this was another George Reynolds not yet placed, and connected in some way with the George Reynolds of West Greenwich admitted freeman May 1, 1756 (R. I. Col. Recs., Vol. 5, p. 488); and the Mary Reynolds, widow of George, who came with four children to Exeter on Jan. 7, 1768, bringing a Certicate from West Greenwich. (Original among Exeter Papers of R. I. Samuel⁴, by his will left the homestead to his son, Thomas⁵, after reaching 21 years of age. It would seem that this was the share of Joseph³ Reynolds' homestead which Samuel⁴ received from his father's estate. Apparently was the northwest corner of the old 727-acre purchase, and the land which Thomas⁵ sold to John Reynolds, Jr., on Feb. 11, 1755.§ Samuel made his brother John his executor. * "The Gardiners of Narragansett, 1638," by Caroline E. Robinson, edit. Rev. Danl. Goodwin, Providence, 1919. See especially p. 16 for Samuel Reynolds and ancestry of Ann⁴ Gardiner. This Gardiner genealogy contains a fascinating account of the old Quakeress, Herodias (Long) Hicks, first wife of George Gardiner, p. 1, from whom the children of Captain Samuel and Ann (Gardiner) Reynolds are descended. This Gardiner Genealogy relates of Herodias: " . . . she was a Quaker and a fanatic at that, cheerfully walking from Newport to Boston, with a young child in her arms to receive a whipping at the post for her religious beliefs." Her first husband, Hicks, after coming to R. I., deserted her, going to New Amsterdam, or, as she expressed it, "to the Dutch," taking with him most of the property left to her by her mother.

dence will ever remember with gratitude the successful services he rendered during the fourteen years as Chairman of this committee. Generous, broad-minded and warm-hearted, he was beloved by all who knew him, and his memory will long be cherished by the people of this city and state, for whose interests he ever labored.

WHEREAS, The Board of Police Commissioners for the City of Providence has learned with feelings of deepest sorrow and regret of the removal by death of one of its members, and

WHEREAS, By the death of Frank Fuller Olney this Board has lost a stanch friend and earnest worker and the city of Providence a public servant who has labored zealously for the improvement of the several city and state departments with which he was connected, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we, the members of the Board of Police Commissioners for the city of Providence, do hereby express our profound sorrow and regret at the death of our beloved associate. During the two years of service as Chairman of the Board, he gave the closest attention to every detail of work at great personal sacrifice, that he might counsel wisely when the time for action arrived. He was always courteous to people who had occasion to call upon him and his kind words and ready response to those in need of material assistance will cause him to be remembered with love and reverence by hundreds of beneficiaries.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of Mr. Olney.

WHEREAS, The Board of Park Commissioners learn with feelings of the deepest sorrow of the death of Frank Fuller Olney, a member of the Board since January 7th, 1895, and its President since January 10th, 1903, and whereas by the death of Frank Fuller Olney this Board has lost a valued member and the city of Providence an earnest worker, who faithfully labored for the improvement of the Parks of this city, as well as for its highest interests in all other departments, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we, the members of the Board of Park Commissioners of the city of Providence, do hereby express our heartfelt sorrow and regret at the death of our beloved associate.

RESOLVED, That on the minutes of this meeting be entered the sincere regrets of his associates, with their appreciation of his ability and courtesy as presiding officer of this Board, and his devotion to the work of the commission, and also that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased President.

The First Light Infantry Regiment gave appropriate expression to their feelings in the memorial service held in the Captain's honor at the Church of Our Savior on Monday, Dec. 14, 1903. The entire regiment was present in full dress uniform, Chaplain Whittemore preached the sermon, and the simple services were such as the one whose memory they honored would himself have chosen. What he was to his comrades in that organization is indicated in the resolutions they adopted:

We, the members of the First Light Infantry Regiment of Providence, Rhode Island, in appreciation of our great loss in the death of our comrade,

FRANK FULLER OLNEY,

in meeting assembled have

RESOLVED, That we can not adequately express our grief that there should be taken from us one who, for more than twenty consecutive years, gave his constant thought and energy for the success of this Regiment, which as private and officer he served loyally and faithfully.

RESOLVED, That we dwell with loving memory upon those genial traits of his character which endeared him to all, and with pride upon those abilities by which our comrade merited and attained the highest civic honors.

RESOLVED, That we will endeavor to maintain the enthusiasm which he inspired by striving earnestly for the welfare of the regiment he so dearly loved.

For the Regiment,

Walter J. Comstock,
Walter J. Lewis,
Samuel A. Howland,
Herbert A. Daniels,
J. Henry Davenport,

F. Lee Whittemore.

The Rhode Island Yacht Club sent the following:

WHEREAS, Frank Fuller Olney, Commodore of the Rhode Island Yacht Club, since February 24, 1902, died at his home in Providence, October 24, 1903, and whereas the Rhode Island Yacht Club has sustained a most severe loss in the removal of one so esteemed and beloved by all, and one who took such an active personal interest in the affairs of this club and gave to it his generous support, therefore be it

RESOLVED, That we, the members of the Rhode Island Yacht Club, place on record this expression of profound sorrow for our loss, and be it further resolved that we hereby express sincerest sympathy to the family of our late Commodore, and that a copy of these resolutions be engrossed and forwarded to them.

Mr. Olney's remains were borne to their last resting place in Swan Point Cemetery, with the same lack of pomp and display which characterized him through life, but the hearts in Providence who knew him need the recollections of no elaborate funeral services to fix his name in their memory.

HON. JOHN JONATHAN REYNOLDS.

There were three early settlements of the Reynolds family in Rhode Island: Jonathan at Bristol; John, called John the Carpenter, in what is now Exeter, and James in what is now North Kingstown. By the marriage of three sons of said James to three daughters of James Greene, we have the ancestry of their descendants back to Henry, King of France, 1030, and to Robert, Earl of Leicester, England, 1310, a record of which is in the possession of Hon. John Jonathan Reynolds.

There are various incorrect reports of the genealogy of the family of James of North Kingstown. One of these is that William Reynolds, who was associated with Roger Williams and others in the compact, was the progenitor, the father of James, who, Savage says, with his family of seven sons and three daughters, settled in Rhode Island. (This in face of the fact that the children of said James were not born until from 1648 to 1670.) Another report is that William came to New England from Gloucestershire, England, via the Bermudas, with three sons, James, John and Samuel. The records there contain no evidence of it. It is very significant, that if William was the father of James he, with so many sons, did not honor his father by naming one of them William. All the reports of William's connection with this line have been tested, and no evidence has rewarded the investigations.

There are many erroneous reports of the genealogy of this line, but the record (which invites criticism) beginning with James Reynolds, whose will is on record in North Kingstown, R. I., as proved in 1702, is as follows:

(I) James Reynolds married Deborah, and had children: John, born Oct. 12, 1648, was killed in the great swamp fight, Dec. 19, 1675; James, born Oct. 28, 1650, married (first) Feb. 20, 1685, Mary Greene, and second ———; Joseph, born Nov. 27, 1652, married second Mary ———; Henry, born Jan. 1, 1656, married Sarah Greene; Deborah, born Feb. 12, 1658, married John Sweet; Francis, born Oct. 12, 1662, married Elizabeth Greene; Mercy, born Dec. 22, 1664, married Thomas Nichols; Robert was born in 1666; Benjamin, in 1669; Elizabeth, in 1670.

(II) Francis Reynolds, son of James, was born Oct. 12, 1662, and died April 14, 1722. He married (first) Elizabeth Greene, born Oct. 17, 1668, daughter of James Greene, and had four children: Francis, born in 1689, married Mary Greene; Peter, born 1691, died 1761; James, born in 1693, married Dec. 7, 1717, Hannah Jenkins; Jabez, born in 1695, died June 3, 1759. Francis Reynolds married (second) Elizabeth Berry, and had four daughters: Elizabeth, Mary, Deborah and Susannah.

(III) Peter Reynolds, son of Francis, was born in 1691, died 1761. His father gave him one-third of the farm on Grand Plain, Exeter, and on this he settled in 1717. In 1744 he purchased the estate where Allen Reynolds now lives, at Davisville. Peter Reynolds and his wife Sarah had five children: John; Joseph; Francis; Jonathan, who married Mary Tanner; and Benjamin.

(IV) John Reynolds, son of Peter, born in North Kingstown in 1718, died Oct. 9, 1804. He married (first), July 15, 1744, Phebe Tillinghast, and had two children: Phebe, born Jan. 2, 1747, who married John Kenyon; and Welthan, born April 20, 1749, who died Feb. 11, 1823. John Reynolds married (second) Anne Utter, born Oct. 28, 1725, daughter of William Utter, and she died April 28, 1787. She had children: William, born July 19, 1753, died Oct. 4, 1841; Benjamin, born April 19, 1756, died Feb. 19, 1820; and Anne, born Aug. 9, 1751, married Giles Olin, Dec. 17, 1769, and went to Vermont.

(V) William Reynolds, son of John, was born July 19, 1753, and died Oct. 4, 1841. His first wife was his second cousin, Esther, daughter of John, son of James Reynolds. She was born Aug. 11, 1755, and died Sept. 7, 1822. Their children were: Jonathan, born March 31, 1774, died Sept. 12, 1851; Nicholas, born Dec. 12, 1775, died Jan. 19, 1822; James, born April 7, 1777, died Nov. 18, 1856; Silas, born Oct. 17, 1782, died July 22, 1814; Zebulon U., born Nov. 15, 1786, died Dec. 15, 1837; Esther, born Aug. 19, 1788, died Dec. 31, 1850; William Job, born March 12, 1791, died July 14, 1833; Samuel Watson, born April 13, 1795, died Sept. 15, 1863; and Daniel, born March 13, 1797, died March 23, 1821. William Reynolds' second wife was Mary Razee, widow, who died March 4, 1847, aged ninety-two years. Mr. Reynolds was a house builder, and built many of the houses now standing in Wickford. He was ensign of the First Company, Train-band, in June, 1775; and was a private in a Rhode Island Troop under Capt. Clarke and Col. Brown, and received a pension from the United States for his services. (See Vol. XII, p. 338, "Vital Statistics of Rhode Island.") Late in life he became almost blind, and his death was due to a fall down a flight of stairs.

(VI) Jonathan Reynolds, son of William, was born in North Kingstown, R. I., March 31, 1774. He was killed by an engine at Davisville on the New York, Providence & Boston railroad, Sept. 12, 1851. Mr. Reynolds was married Jan. 20, 1803, to Mary Spink, born March 25, 1773, daughter of Nicholas and Anne Spink, and she died Feb. 23, 1851, the mother of the following children: Esther Chapoone, born Sept. 1, 1804, died Feb. 8, 1875; Helen Maria Williams, born Jan. 29, 1806, died Feb. 19, 1869; Mary Mehitable, born Aug. 16, 1807, died Feb. 24, 1901; Hannah Ann Utter, born May 15, 1810, died Nov. 1, 1889; John Jonathan, born Dec. 7, 1812; and William Peter, born May 21, 1816, died Oct. 1, 1817.

Previous to 1805 Mr. Reynolds engaged in carpentering, and at that time engaged in a retail variety business, which he gave over to his son, John J., in 1835. He was town clerk from 1813 to 1836, was a director of the North Kingstown Bank from 1819, and president thereof from 1834 to the time of his death. At the time of this event the Providence Journal contained the following tribute to his memory. "In North Kingstown, 12th inst., Mr. Jonathan Reynolds, in the seventy-eighth year of his life. Mr. Reynolds was one of our most prominent citizens, and from his close connection with the affairs of this town for the past fifty years might be truly said to have been of it a living record. During that time he has been selected for the highest political and social preferments within its gift, having for several years represented it in both branches of the Legislature of this State; for upwards of twenty consecutive years been elected its town clerk, and for nearly twenty years previous, and at the time of his death, was president of the North Kingstown Bank. Not only in public life did he stand prominently in our community, but in the various relations of private and social life; an ever kind and indulgent parent, his memory will ever be cherished in grateful remembrance; as a man of sterling integrity, untiring industry, a sentinel always on duty, an open handed, public spirited citizen (in this he leaves

Mary Welles, third child of Joseph, born in Colchester, England, about 1624, and was taken with her father to America in 1635, and about 1640 removed with her brother Isaac to Barnstable, Mass., where she lived, and died July 28, 1648. She was married in Barnstable in 1642, to Thomas Huckins of Barnstable (who died at sea, Nov. 9, 1679, aged 62). Children:

Lydia, born July 4, 1664, died July 28, 1644.
Mary, bapt. March 29, 1646.
Elizabeth, born 2d and bapt. Feb. 27, 1648, died Dec. 8, 1648.

Joseph Welles, of Scituate, the son of Isaac Welles, of Colchester, England; Boston, Scituate, and Barnstable, Mass.; was born at Barnstable, Mass., about 1642. He was married at Scituate 166[illegible] to Grace Dipple, of Scituate. Had a son.

Joseph, born at Barnstable, Mass., about 1667. He was married in 1705 to Abigail Smith.

PROGENITOR No. IV.

NATHANIEL WELLES, of Colchester, England, brother of Dea. Thomas Welles, of Ipswich, and Richard, of Salisbury, was born in Colchester, England, about year 1600. He emigrated to America in 1629.

He landed at Salem, or Boston, and took the Freeman's oath at the latter place, Nov. 2, 1637.—N. E. Gen. Reg., vol. 3, p 95.

He thence removed into Rhode Island about 1640, and made settlement in the wilderness upon a tract of over 400 acres of land purchased of the Narragansett Indians (near Wickford, where Richard Smith made settlement in 1639), and called the place of settlement "Wellstown," as now spelt. Here he lived the residue of his lifetime and died.

HIS CHILDREN:

Thomas Welles, born in Colchester, England, in year 1626.
John Welles " " " about 1630.
Naomi Welles " Salem or Ipswich, in year 1637.

"Thomas Welles, aged 42, in 1668. Naomi Welles, aged 31, in 1668."—Essex County, Mass., Records.

Tradition states that Nathaniel Welles was the first progenitor of the family in New England. That he was the owner and proprietor of extensive shipyards at or near Colchester, England, which he was obliged to abandon at his emigration in 1629, and which he stated on his settlement in Rhode Island, to have been more valuable than the whole Townships of Westerly, Newport and Charlestown.

Thomas Welles, Shipwright, first child of Nathaniel Welles, of England, was born in Colchester, England, in the year 1626, whence he was brought with his parents to America in 1629, and landed at or near Boston, Mass.

"Thomas Welles was one of the early band of planters at Pequot Harbor, probably on the ground in 1648, and certainly in 1649. He was a carpenter, and worked with Elderkin on Mills and Meeting Houses. The last notice of him, on the town record, is in 1661, when Welles and Elderkin were employed to repair the turret of the meeting house. No account can be found of the sale of his house or land. He may have left the settlement, or he may be concealed from our view by dwelling on a farm remote from the centre of business."—Caulkins' History of New London, pp. 355-356.

"In a list of the names who wrought at the Mill Dam we find the name of Thomas Welles."—Caulkins' History of New London, p. 74.

"Thomas Welles is found at Westerly, about the year 1677, engaged in constructing vessels at a ship-yard, on the Pawkatuck river. He is styled 'of Ipswich, shipwright.' In 1680, having a lawsuit with Amos Richardson, respecting a vessel of 48 tons burden, which he had contracted to build for him, two of his sons appeared as witnesses, viz.: Joseph, aged 22, and Thomas, seventeen. Judd, of Northampton, M. S."—Caulkins' History of New London.

He was in New London, Connecticut, from 1648 to 1651. Caulkins' History of New London says that "Thomas Welles, carpenter, had a grant of land there in 1649, and that he was there in 1651. Having a natural taste for naval architecture he removed to Ipswich, where his uncle Thomas lived, and commenced the business of ship building, which he continued until the year 1677." In 1677, Thomas Welles, of Ipswich, Mass., bought a farm of 180 acres in Westerly, R. I., and soon after removed there with his two sons, Joseph and Thomas. The bargain between Amos Richardson, of Stonington, and Thomas Welles, of Ipswich, was made in July 1677. At that time Connecticut claimed Westerly, or a part of it, as a part of Stonington. The farm was on east side of Pawkatuck River (now Westerly), and Welles agreed to build a vessel of 48 tons and furnish all the wood and iron (but not the rigging) to pay for the land. He came on and made preparations to build the vessel, but he soon ascertained that the land and house were claimed also by Rhode Island authorities, and as he was in danger of losing his estate he refused to build the vessel. Richardson sued Welles in the lower court, and then the case was carried up to the Court of Assistants at Hartford, where it lasted until 1680, at which time the two sons, Joseph, aged 22, and Thomas, 17 (witnesses in the suit), appear in the strife. Rhode Island got Westerly, and Welles his farm by paying something to Rhode Island."—Sylvester Judd, of Northampton, Historical Recollections of Connecticut Controversies.

"At the time of his removal and settlement at Westerly it comprised Charlestown and Hopkinton. He lived in the Hopkinton portion, the residue of his lifetime, and died Feb. 12th, 1700, aged 74. He was interred in the burial place called "Chimney Orchard," on the estate first purchased by his father, the founder of the family in Rhode Island."

Thomas Welles was married in Boston, about 1655. His wife was named Naomi. His children were:

JOSEPH WELLES, Shipwright, the son of Thomas Welles, Shipwright, who was the son of Nathaniel Welles, of England, was born in Ipswich, Mass., in the year 1658, whence he removed with his father, in 1677, to Westerly, R. I., and Groton, Ct., where he lived, and died Oct. 26, 1711.

"Joseph Welles, shipwright, took the oath of fidelity to the Colony at Westerly, R. I., Sept. 17th, 1679."—R. I. Hist. Collection, vol. 3, p. 103.

"Married 28 December, 1681, Hannah Reynolds." In his will mentions wife Hannah, and children:

And makes his son Joseph his Executor, and gives land to his sons Thomas and John."—Savage's Dictionary.

"Another noted shipbuilder was Joseph Welles, of Westerly, on the Pawkatuck River. Of his vessels belonging to the port of New London were the Alexander, and Martha, built by contract in 1681."—Caulkins' History of New London, p. 237.

"Joseph Welles, of Groton, bought a tract of land in Groton in 1696 (then New London), located on the eastern slope of "Cow Hill," a place well known in Groton. In 1706 he purchased another tract of 10 acres, and in 1708 another of 50 acres and subsequently other tracts. The first two were situated at and just below the village of Mystic, on the west side of the river. That Joseph Welles, of Groton, was son of Thomas Welles, of Westerly, is established beyond a doubt, by the records of the Town of New London, and of the old Stonington County Court."

"Joseph Welles, of Groton, died Oct. 26, 1711, the noted shipbuilder of Pawkatuck River, and he is styled of Groton, from the circumstance of his having a farm and family residence near the head of Mystic, on the Groton side of the river. It is certain that a farm in this position was occupied at a very early period by a Welles family. Descendants of the ancient owners—first Thomas Welles and then his son Joseph—are at this day (1850) living in the same place, and in the same low browed, unaltered house, in the shadow of Porter's Rocks, where Joseph Welles died. It is near a gap in the ledge where Mason and Underhill rested with their company a few hours, before making their terrible onslaught upon the Pequots in the Expedition of May, 1637."—Caulkins' Hist. of New London, p. 356.

Thomas Welles, of Wellstown, R. I., son of Thomas Welles, of Ipswich, Mass., was born in Ipswich, Mass., in the year 1663, and at the age of 14 years was taken with his father to Westerly, R. I. The family settled at Wellstown Hopkinton Township, R. I., in the year 1677, where Thomas lived all his lifetime, and died in the year 1716, aged 53 years

He was married in Hopkinton, R. I., about 1691, to Sarah, daughter of —— Rogers, of Hopkinton. Children:

On the Westerly Records is a deed dated 1694, signed by Thomas Welles and Sarah his wife, giving to his brothers Nathaniel and John, a piece of land which was left him by his father, and which lay near a place called Crandall's Mills, in Westerly Township. There is also his will recorded at same place, dated April 11, 1716 (W. Rec., vol. 1, p. 126), and proved in 1716, in which, after providing for his widow Sarah, he gives his property to his children, Thomas, Edward and Sarah, and wishes his brother Nathaniel and John Maxson to assist them in the settlement. He mentions about the "Chimney Orchard," which is still known as the burial place of the family. (Amount of Inventory, £165 19s.)

"A General Recorder's quit-claim deed was granted to Thomas Welles, Nathaniel Welles, and others, at Westerly, R. I., Oct. 2, 1711, of 5,300 acres as platted, N by vacant lands, E by Maxson's purchase, S by Pawkatuck River. W by Colony line."—West. Rec., or R. I. Hist. Col., vol. 2. p. 113.

John Welles, of Westerly, R. I., the son of Thomas Welles, of Ipswich, Mass., was born at Ipswich in 1665, and removed with his father in 1677, to Westerly, R. I., where he lived.

On Westerly Records, vol. 2, p. 54, is a copy of a deed dated April 1, 1701, by John Welles and Mary his wife, witnessed by his brother Nathaniel.

A sale of land was made in Narragansett, June 3, 1709, of 1618 acres, called Swamptown, or Bly's purchase to John Welles and others. Nathaniel Welles, of Hopkinton, R. I., the son of Thomas Welles, of Ipswich, Mass., was born at Ipswich about 1672, and was taken with his father, in 1677, to Westerly, R. I., at Wellstown, in Hopkinton Township, where he lived.

He was married in Hopkinton, R. I., in 1706, to Mary, daughter of Joseph Crandell, of Hopkinton. Children:

Nathaniel Welles lived about a mile south-east of his brother Thomas, where he built a house, which was standing about the beginning of the present century.

"A General Recorder's quit-claim deed was granted to Nathaniel Welles, Thomas Welles and others, at Westerly, Oct. 2, 1711. 5,300 acres, as platted, north by vacant lands east by Maxson's purchase, south by Pawkatuck River, and west by colony line."—R. I. Hist. Col., vol. 2, p. 113.

John Welles, of Newburyport, Mass., second child of Nathaniel Welles, of Colchester, England, was born about 1630, in Colchester, England, and brought with his parents to America about 1635, and landed at or near Boston, Mass.

"He was a carpenter, and removed to Newburyport, Mass., where he was living in 1674." His wife was named Mary.

"John Welles, of Newburyport, Mass., took the freeman's oath at Boston, Mass., May 19, 1669.—N. E. Gen. Reg., vol 3, p. 240.—Also at Roxbury, Mass., Oct. 10, 1677."

John Welles was at Woodbury, Ct., April 20, 1659, thence removed to Newburyport, Mass. He was married in Newburyport, March 5, 1669, to Mary, daughter of Edward Greenleaf. Children:

Progenitor No. V.

GEORGE WELLES, of Colchester, Essex County, England, was born in Colchester, England, about the year 1603, whence he emigrated to America about 1635. His brother Richard came in the ship Globe in 1635, and George probably came with him, or about same time. He landed at Salem or Boston, and in 1638 he removed with his brothers Richard and William, and was among the first settlers of Lynn, Mass., whence he removed with his brother William in 1640 to Long Island, and was among the first settlers of Southampton, where he lived the residue of his lifetime and died, probably without issue.

SOUTHAMPTON, L. I.

This town was settled in 1640. In Ogilby's America, it is mentioned that about the year 1640, by a fresh supply of people that settled Long Island, there was erected a town called Southampton, and severed (he says) from the continent of New Haven, they not finding a place in any other of the colonies.

In "Winthrop's Journal," he states that about forty families, finding themselves straitened, left the town of Lynn with the design of settling a new plantation. They invited Mr. Abraham Pierson, of Boston, to become their minister, who, with seven of the emigrants, entered into a church covenant before they departed. By an agreement, bearing the date 17th of April, 1640, James Farret, agent of the Earl of Stirling, authorized Captain Daniel How, Job Sayre, and others their associates, to purchase lands, and form a settlement on Long Island; "with as full and free liberty, both in church order and civil government, as the plantations of Massachusetts enjoyed." In consequence of this agreement, Captain How and his associates sailed from Lynn in a vessel belonging to him, and arrived at Cow Bay, in the western part of Long Island, sometimes called Scouts Bay. On their field among the early sett. a. 1673, but aft. the destruct. of that town by the Ind. in Philip's war, he was a short time at Roxbury again, and soon rem. to Hatfield, thence to Wethersfield, where he was in 1702. Samuel, Roxbury, br. of the preced. freem. 1671, m. 16 Oct. 1661, Eliz. 1—JOHN.

Newport, Westerly, R. I.

He was early associated with the Baptists at Newport, subsequently becoming the first elder of the church at Westerly.

1651, 7, 21. He with John Clarke and Obadiah Holmes "being the representatives of the church in Newport, upon the reque of William Witter of Lynn, arrived there, he being a brother in the church, who by reason of his advanced age, could not unde take so great a journey as to visit the church." While Mr. Clarke was preaching, the constable came into the house and appr hended them, and the next morning they were sent to prison in Boston.

1651, 7, 31. He was sentenced to pay a fine of £5, or to be publicly whipped. He was released from prison upon promise appearing at next court.

1658, '59, '62, '63. Commissioner.

1661, 8, 27. He and eight others signed a letter to Court of Commissioners of R. I., concerning a tract of land at Westerly th they and others desired approbation and assistance of Rhode Island in settling upon.

1661, 9, 9. He had half a share at Westerly assigned him.

1667. Deputy (being still of Newport).

1667, 10, 17. Westerly. He was complained of in a letter from Connecticut to Rhode Island authorities, for having come west side of Pawcatuck river and laid out about a mile square of land to his son.

1669, 5, 14. He and Joseph Torrey were appointed commissioners to treat with Connecticut relative to jurisdiction of lands. Tl sum of 35s. was lent to the colony of Rhode Island by individuals, for John Crandall's voyage to Connecticut.

1669, 11, 18. A letter was sent him by Governor and Assistants of Connecticut, complaining that he and others had appropriat a great parcel of Stonington township, and seeking for satisfaction.

1670, 3, 11. He and Tobias Saunders answered on behalf of Westerly, denying any guilt in matter complained of; "but we a very sensible of great wrongs that we have sustained by them for several years." The letter closes: "As for your advice agree with those our neighbors, of Stonington, and the other gentlemen, we hope that your colony and ours will in the fir place lovingly agree, and then we question not but there will be an agreement between us and our neighbors of Stonington an the rest of the gentlemen."

1670, 6, 9. He as Conservator of the Peace at Westerly wrote a letter a little prior to this date, to the Governor of Rhode Island, informing him of an entrance made into our jurisdiction by some of Connecticut, and of their carrying away some inhabitants prisoners.

1670, 8, 2. His first wife was buried.

1670, 10, 3. He deeded son John of Newport, for love, etc., all my goods, chattels, debts, household utensils, and all other personal estate, movable or immovable, quick or dead, putting him in quiet and peaceable possession by payment of 1s. in silver by his son.

1670, '71. Deputy (from Westerly).

1671, 1, 30. Bills were allowed by Assembly for hire of a boat to go to Narragansett with Mr. John Crandall, Sr., in the year 1670, and for hire of Sarah Reape's horse for use of Mr. John Crandall to go to Hartford.

1671, 5, 2. He having been "as is asserted," apprehended and now is in durance, by the colony of Connecticut, and having desired the advice of the Governor, etc., of Rhode Island, whether to give bond or abide imprisonment, the Assembly advise him to give no bond, and that if he be forced to imprisonment the colony will bear his charges and endeavor to justify his actions therein.

1671, 5, 6. He was allowed 5s. to bear his charge to Connecticut.

He died at Newport, having moved there on account of the Indian war.

1675, 1, 23. In a letter from Ruth Burdick, of Westerly, to her father Samuel Hubbard of Newport, she says: "Brother Crandall hath the ague and fe[illegible]r still, and hath been but little amongst us this winter, sister Crandall is brought to bed with a son, and is in a hopeful [illegible]

1676, 11, 29. The [illegible] "my dear brother John Crandall" of the old church, is alluded to in a letter from Samuel Hubbard, at this date wri[illegible] Edward Stennet of London. Mr. Hubbard wrote a few years later: "my dear brother John Crandall, of Squamicut is dead, and his first wife, a Sabbath keeper, the first that died in the blessed faith in New England." His second wife may have been Hannah Gaylord, born 1647, 1, 30, daughter of Wm. and Ann (Porter) Gaylord, of Windsor, Conn. She married a Crandall, as is shown by the settlement of her brother Hezekiah Gaylord's estate, he having died 1677, 9, 2.

2—JEREMIAH.

Westerly, R. I.

1678, 5, 13. A deed from John Crandall, son and heir of John Crandall of Newport, deceased, for natural love to his two beloved brothers, Jeremiah and Eber Crandall, now resident at Newport, and in tuition of their mother Hannah Crandall, confirmed to them a certain house, formerly the mansion house of my father, John Crandall, together with 200 acres thereto belonging, lying and being in Westerly, with garden, orchards, etc.

1696, 8, 31. He bought 100 acres and housing of John Crandall, jr., of Narragansett.

1704, 5, 24. He had ear-mark for sheep granted.

1709, 6, 28. He and twenty-six others bought tract called Shannock Purchase, being part of the vacant lands in Narragansett.

1712, 7, 18. He and wife Priscilla gave receipt for legacy of £10 from her father's estate.

1718, 8, 1. Will, proved 1718, 8, 28. Ex. brother John Warner, of Warwick. He gives executor power to sell real and personal estate. To wife Priscilla ⅓ of all estate for her dower. To eldest son Jeremiah a double portion of estate. To eldest daughter Ann Crandall and my sons John and James Crandall, double portion of remainder of estate. To daughters Hannah, Sarah, Experience, Patience, Susanna and Mary Crandall remainder of estate equally. Executor is given power to bind out all my children. Inventory, £117, 6s. 6d. viz., 2 oxen, 2 three year old steers, 6 cows, 4 calves, 2 heifers, 3 yearlings, 2 mares, 3 colts, sow and pigs, books, 15s. woolen and linen wheel, bonds £18, etc.

1721, 8, 7. Additional inventory £25, 18s. 3d. being estate of Sarah Crandall, deceased. The real estate of Jeremiah Crandall had been sold at this date, amounting to £280.

His widow married Abraham Lockwood of Warwick.

1725, 12, 30. His son John died. Inventory, £41, 13s. 9d. The administrator (John Warner of Warwick), gave account of charges as follows: To Priscilla Crandall, mother of deceased, £5, 16s. To Hannah Austin, sister of deceased £5, 16s. and same amount to James, Experience, Susanna and Mary Crandall respectively (balance charges £6, 17s. 9d.).

1728, 9, 13. The last remaining son of Jeremiah Crandall (deceased) viz., James Crandall, late of Providence, died at this date at Westerly. His inventory amounted to £42, 5s. 4d. part of which was sworn to by Rachel Warner of Warwick, daughter of John Warner, and kinswoman of deceased, James Crandall.

1748, 1, 12. Will, proved 1750, 3, 17. Priscilla Lockwood, widow of Abraham. Ex., brother Ezekiel Warner. She called herself late of Warwick, now resident in Providence. To daughter Experience Sprague, 40s. To grandson Robert Ashton (i. e. Austin), 10s. To grandson Jeremiah Ashton (i. e. Austin), 40s. To grandson Jeremiah Sprague, 20s. To brother Ezekiel Warner, remainder of estate. Inventory, £90, 8s. 7d., viz., wearing apparel £15, 18s., books £3, feather bed, beef, pork, chest and trunk, pewter, money due on account £10, 12s. 7d., etc.

1—JOHN.

Newport, Westerly, R. I.

He was early associated with the Baptists at Newport, subsequently becoming the first elder of the church at Westerly.

1651, 7, 21. He with John Clarke and Obadiah Holmes "being the representatives of the church in Newport, upon the request of William Witter of Lynn, arrived there, he being a brother in the church, who by reason of his advanced age, could not undertake so great a journey as to visit the church." While Mr. Clarke was preaching, the constable came into the house and apprehended them, and the next morning they were sent to prison in Boston.

1651, 7, 31. He was sentenced to pay a fine of £5, or to be publicly whipped. He was released from prison upon promise of appearing at next court.

1658, '59, '62, '63. Commissioner.

1661, 8, 27. He and eight others signed a letter to Court of Commissioners of R. I., concerning a tract of land at Westerly that they and others desired approbation and assistance of Rhode Island in settling upon.

1661, 9, 9. He had half a share at Westerly assigned him.

1667. Deputy (being still of Newport).

1667, 10, 17. Westerly. He was complained of in a letter from Connecticut to Rhode Island authorities, for having come on west side of Pawcatuck river and laid out about a mile square of land to his son.

1669, 5, 14. He and Joseph Torrey were appointed commissioners to treat with Connecticut relative to jurisdiction of lands. The sum of 35s. was lent to the colony of Rhode Island by individuals, for John Crandall's voyage to Connecticut.

1669, 11, 18. A letter was sent him by Governor and Assistants of Connecticut, complaining that he and others had appropriated a great parcel of Stonington township, and seeking for satisfaction.

1670, 3, 11. He and Tobias Saunders answered on behalf of Westerly, denying any guilt in matter complained of; "but we are very sensible of great wrongs that we have sustained by them for several years." The letter closes: "As for your advice to agree with those our neighbors, of Stonington, and the other gentlemen, we hope that your colony and ours will in the first place lovingly agree, and then we question not but there will be an agreement between us and our neighbors of Stonington and the rest of the gentlemen."

1670, 6, 9. He as Conservator of the Peace at Westerly wrote a letter a little prior to this date, to the Governor of Rhode Island, informing him of an entrance made into our jurisdiction by some of Connecticut, and of their carrying away some inhabitants prisoners.

1670, 8, 2. His first wife was buried.

1670, 10, 3. He deeded son John of Newport, for love, etc., all my goods, chattels, debts, household utensils, and all other personal estate, movable or immovable, quick or dead, putting him in quiet and peaceable possession by payment of 1s. in silver by his son.

1670, '71. Deputy (from Westerly).

1671, 1, 30. Bills were allowed by Assembly for hire of a boat to go to Narragansett with Mr. John Crandall, Sr., in the year 1670, and for hire of Sarah Reape's horse for use of Mr. John Crandall to go to Hartford.

1671, 5, 2. He having been "as is asserted," apprehended and now is in durance, by the colony of Connecticut, and having desired the advice of the Governor, etc., of Rhode Island, whether to give bond or abide imprisonment, the Assembly advise him to give no bond, and that if he be forced to imprisonment the colony will bear his charges and endeavor to justify his actions therein.

1671, 5, 6. He was allowed 5s. to bear his charge to Connecticut.

He died at Newport, having moved there on account of the Indian war.

1675, 1, 23. In a letter from Ruth Burdick, of Westerly, to her father Samuel Hubbard of Newport, she says: "Brother Crandall hath the ague and fe[illegible]r still, and hath been but little amongst us this winter, sister Crandall is brought to bed with a son, and is in a hopeful [illegible]

1676, 11, 29. The [illegible] "my dear brother John Crandall" of the old church, is alluded to in a letter from Samuel Hubbard, at this date wri[illegible] Edward Stennet of London. Mr. Hubbard wrote a few years later: "my dear brother John Crandall, of Squamicut is dead, and his first wife, a Sabbath keeper, the first that died in the blessed faith in New England." His second wife may have been Hannah Gaylord, born 1647, 1, 30, daughter of Wm. and Ann (Porter) Gaylord, of Windsor, Conn. She married a Crandall, as is shown by the settlement of her brother Hezekiah Gaylord's estate, he having died 1677, 9, 2.

2—JEREMIAH.

Westerly, R. I.

1678, 5, 13. A deed from John Crandall, son and heir of John Crandall of Newport, deceased, for natural love to his two beloved brothers, Jeremiah and Eber Crandall, now resident at Newport, and in tuition of their mother Hannah Crandall, confirmed to them a certain house, formerly the mansion house of my father, John Crandall, together with 200 acres thereto belonging, lying and being in Westerly, with garden, orchards, etc.

1696, 8, 31. He bought 100 acres and housing of John Crandall, jr., of Narragansett.

1704, 5, 24. He had ear-mark for sheep granted.

1709, 6, 28. He and twenty-six others bought tract called Shannock Purchase, being part of the vacant lands in Narragansett.

1712, 7, 18. He and wife Priscilla gave receipt for legacy of £10 from her father's estate.

1718, 8, 1. Will, proved 1718, 8, 28. Ex. brother John Warner, of Warwick. He gives executor power to sell real and personal estate. To wife Priscilla $\frac{1}{3}$ of all estate for her dower. To eldest son Jeremiah a double portion of estate. To eldest daughter Ann Crandall and my sons John and James Crandall, double portion of remainder of estate. To daughters Hannah, Sarah, Experience, Patience, Susanna and Mary Crandall remainder of estate equally. Executor is given power to bind out all my children. 1721, 8, 7. Additional inventory £25, 18s. 3d. being estate of Sarah Crandall, deceased. The real estate of Jeremiah Crandall had been sold at this date, amounting to £280.

His widow married Abraham Lockwood of Warwick.

1725, 12, 30. His son John died. Inventory, £41, 13s. 9d. The administrator (John Warner of Warwick), gave account of charges as follows: To Priscilla Crandall, mother of deceased, £5, 16s. To Hannah Austin, sister of deceased £5, 16s. and same amount to James, Experience, Susanna and Mary Crandall respectively (balance charges £6, 17s. 9d.).

1728, 9, 13. The last remaining son of Jeremiah Crandall (deceased) viz., James Crandall, late of Providence, died at this date at Westerly. His inventory amounted to £42, 5s. 4d. part of which was sworn to by Rachel Warner of Warwick, daughter of John Warner, and kinswoman of deceased, James Crandall.

1748, 1, 12. Will, proved 1750, 3, 17. Priscilla Lockwood, widow of Abraham. Ex., brother Ezekiel Warner. She called herself late of Warwick, now resident in Providence. To daughter Experience Sprague, 40s. To grandson Robert Ashton (i. e. Austin), 10s. To grandson Jeremiah Ashton (i. e. Austin), 40s. To grandson Jeremiah Sprague, 20s. To brother Ezekiel Warner, remainder of estate. EXTRACTS FROM THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH RECORDS OF WESTERLY, R. I.

Communicated by BENJAMIN PARKE, LL.D., of Parkvale, Penn.

THE Records of a "Presbyterian or rather Congregational" church or society in Westerly, R. I., from 1750 to about 1769, having been temporarily placed in my hands, I have copied the principal parts thereof for publication in the REGISTER.

As all the proceedings were carefully recorded, they most fully illustrate the usages of that day in regard to church affairs. Family covenants made and renewed, written out and signed; written confessions of candidates for membership, and the form of their reception to full communion with the society; petitions for dismission and letters to other churches, are in all cases fully recorded. They are thought to be unique; certainly very curious and interesting,—worthy of being preserved and handed down, if not studied, as evidences of the character and tone of piety among our New-England ancestry.

I shall omit such parts of the record as merely refer to the examination of the trifling difficulties with each other, and the discipline of members; each of whom, by the terms of their covenant, were placed under the watch and guardianship of all the rest.

The original record is written on sheets of foolscap paper, stitched together without binding or cover. Several of the leaves are mutilated and some entirely gone, especially at the commencement and ending. As their

[Communicated by J. D. CHAMPLIN, Jr., of New York, N. Y.]

The original articles of agreement of the purchasers of Misquamicut, bearing date March 22, 1660-61, were signed by seventy-six persons, of whom but a small portion removed thither, and of those who actually settled there a number soon joined the settlement of Kingstown. Others, however, soon flocked thither, and in 1679, a period of about eighteen years from the founding of the town, we find families of thirty-five different names. I propose to give a few facts in relation to each of these names, gleaned from the records of Westerly and the adjoining towns, which may possibly be useful as material for some future genealogist of Rhode Island families to work into shape. The loss of all the early records of Newport will account for the paucity of dates.

JONATHAN ARMSTRONG.—Made free. 1668. He probably removed early, as I have not been enabled to trace him.

JAMES BABCOCK, Senr†.—Died at Stonington, June 12, 1679. Made a verbal will‡; mentions son Job, dau. Mary Champlin, a gift to William Champlin's eldest dau., to son Joseph when he comes to twenty years of age, and wife Elizabeth for bringing up three children he had by her. Witnessed by John and Job Babcock.

Adm. inhab. Portsmouth, Feb. 25th, 1642. Ordered in 1650, with five others, to mend all locks and stocks of guns that shall be brought to them, for a suitable consideration. Commissioner for Portsmouth, 1657-8. He m. 1st, ——, and had James, John, Job and Mary, who m. William, son of Jeoffrey Champlin. He m. 2nd, Elizabeth ——, and had Joseph and two others. Of his sons, James m. Jane ——. The inv. of his estate bears date 1698. The will of Mrs. Jane Babcock is dated April 30, 1718, and mentions dau. Sarah Lewis, (m. James Lewis) dau. Jane Lewis, (m. Israel Lewis), dau. Elizabeth Lewis, (m. David Lewis), dau. Mary Brown, (m. George Brown), dau. Hannah Larkin, (m. Roger Larkin); and sons James, William and Peter. Besides these he probably had a son Job.

John, son of James, sen., m. Mary ——. His will dates 1685; mentions eldest son James, "and nine more," viz.: Ann, Mary, John, Job, George, Elihu, Robert, Joseph and Oliver. Mrs. Mary Babcock m. 2nd, Erasmus Babbet, and died Dec. 8, 1711.

Job, son of James, sen., m. Jane ——. His will dates March 6, 1715; mentions son John, eldest son Job, youngest son Benjamin, dau. Jane Braman, dau. Sarah Hall, (m. James Hall), dau. Mary Tanners, dau. Elizabeth Brand, and dau's. Hannah and Marcy.

Joseph, son of James, sen., by 2nd wife Elizabeth, m. 1st, Dorothy Key, April 13, 1696, and had Elizabeth, b. Jan. 29, 1697-8. Mrs. Dorothy Babcock died Dec. 14, 1727, and Joseph m. 2nd, Mrs. Hannah Coats. By her he had Abigail, b. April 20, 1731; Authority, Feb. 2, 1729-30; Joseph, Oct. 14, 1733; and John, Jan. 26, 1735-6.

GEORGE BROWN.—In 1692 Peter Crandall had a son-in-law of this name. The will of Mrs. Jane Babcock, wife of James Babcock, jr., of the date of 1718, mentions dau. Mary Brown, who appears to have been the wife of a George Brown. We also find the will of one of the same name at Westerly, dated Sept. 14, 1736; mentions wife Charity, eldest son George, sons Peter, John and William—eldest dau. Elizabeth Stanton, dau. Sarah Champlin, and dau. Ruth Brown.

Another George Brown was m. to Jerusha, dau. of Joseph Lewis, April 4, 1734. Indeed, there are so many of the name on the different records, that I have been unable to distinguish them.

The cattle marks of John and Thomas Brown appear on the Stonington records as early as 1688.

ROBERT BURDICK.—Free., Newport, May 22, 1655. He m. Ruth, dau. of Samuel Hubbard, of Newport, and had Robert, Hubbard, Thomas, Benjamin, Samuel, Naomi who m. Jonathan Rogers, Tacy who m. Joseph Maxson, Ruth who m. John Phillips, and Deborah who m. Joseph Crandall. Robert Burdick was with Tobias Saunders, arrested by the Mass. authorities for trespassing upon their jurisdiction, and imprisoned at Boston, until they should pay a fine of £40. He died in 1692.

Of his sons, Robert m. Dorcas, dau. of Lewis; Hubbard m. a dau. of John Maxson; and Benjamin m. Mary ——, and had Mary, b. July 26, 1699, m. —— Lewis; Rachel b. July 5, 1701, m. —— Sisson; Peter b. Aug. 5, 1703; Benjamin, Nov. 25, 1705; John, March 24, 1708; David, Feb. 24, 1710; William, June 12, 1713; Elisha, Sept. 22, 1716.

JAMES CASS (or CASE).—Made free. Oct. 28, 1668. Probably removed with first emigrants to Kingstown, as we find many of that name there about 1690, and find no traces of him at Westerly.

JEOFFREY CHAMPLIN, Sen.—Was of Portsmouth, R. I., in 1638; admitted inhab. Newport 24th of 11th mo. 1638, and adm. free. 1640. He removed to Westerly with first emigrants in 1661, and in 1695 is mentioned as deceased. He m. ——, and had Jeoffrey, eldest son, William, who died Dec. 1st, 1715, in his 62nd year, and Christopher. His children were all probably born in Newport—but as all the records of that place previous to the Revolution were destroyed by the British, it is mere matter of conjecture.

Of his children, Capt. Jeoffrey, of Kingstown, m. ——, and had Jeoffrey, (William* and Hannah?) He was an Assistant in the Colony from 1696 to 1715, about which time he died.

Capt. William, of Westerly, second son, m. Mary, dau. of James Babcock, sen., and had children—William, who m. Mary, dau. of Joseph Clark, jr., Jan. 18, 1700; Mary, who m. Capt. John Babcock; and Ann, who m. Samuel Clark, Jan. 19, 1698-9.

Christopher m. 1st, ——, and had Christopher, Jeoffrey, William, Joseph and John. He m. 2nd, Elizabeth, widow of William Davell, and died April 2, 1732.

HOPE CHAPMAN.—Richard Chapman, of Boston, m. Mary ——, and had Susan, b. 25th of 12th mo. 1647, (m. —— Ellis, of Stonington?) Hope, b. 30th of 11th mo. 1654; Mary, 30th of 4th mo. 1657.†

Hope free. inhab. Westerly 1680. He m. ——, and had Richard, only son, b. Feb. 20, 1687, and daus. Elizabeth and Hannah. He died May 3rd, 1698; made a verbal will‡ before James Cornish and John Maxson. Amount of inv. £59 6s. 6d.

EARLY SETTLERS OF WESTERLY, RHODE ISLAND.*

[Communicated by J. D. Champlin, Jr., of New York, N. Y.]

The original articles of agreement of the purchasers of Misquamicut, bearing date March 22, 1660–61, were signed by seventy-six persons, of whom but a small portion removed thither, and of those who actually settled there a number soon joined the settlement of Kingstown. Others, however, soon flocked thither, and in 1679, a period of about eighteen years from the founding of the town, we find families of thirty-five different names. I propose to give a few facts in relation to each of these names, gleaned from the records of Westerly and the adjoining towns, which may possibly be useful as material for some future genealogist of Rhode Island families to work into shape. The loss of all the early records of Newport will account for the paucity of dates.

Jonathan Armstrong.—Made free. 1668. He probably removed early, as I have not been enabled to trace him.

James Babcock, Senr.—Died at Stonington, June 12, 1679. Made a verbal will†; mentions son Job, dau. Mary Champlin, a gift to William Champlin's eldest dau., to son Joseph when he comes to twenty years of age, and wife Elizabeth for bringing up three children he had by her. Witnessed by John and Job Babcock.

Adm. inhab. Portsmouth, Feb. 25th, 1642. Ordered in 1650, with five others, to mend all locks and stocks of guns that shall be brought to them, for a suitable consideration. Commissioner for Portsmouth, 1657–8. He m. 1st, ——, and had James, John, Job and Mary, who m. William, son of Jeoffrey Champlin. He m. 2nd, Elizabeth ——, and had Joseph and two others. Of his sons, James m. Jane ——. The inv. of his estate bears date 1698. The will of Mrs. Jane Babcock is dated April 30, 1718, and mentions dau. Sarah Lewis, (m. James Lewis) dau. Jane Lewis, (m. Israel Lewis), dau. Elizabeth Lewis, (m. David Lewis), dau. Mary Brown, (m. George Brown), dau. Hannah Larkin, (m. Roger Larkin); and sons James, William and Peter. Besides these he probably had a son Job.

John, son of James, senr., m. Mary ——. His will dates 1685; mentions eldest son James "and nine more," viz.: Ann, Mary, John, Job, George, Elihu, Robert, Joseph and Oliver. Mrs. Mary Babcock m. 2nd, Erasmus Babbet, and died Dec. 8, 1711.

Job, son of James, sen., m. Jane ——. His will dates March 6, 1715; mentions son John, eldest son Job, youngest son Benjamin, dau. Jane Braman, dau. Sarah Hall, (m. James Hall), dau. Mary Tanners, dau. Elizabeth Brand, and dau's. Hannah and Mercy.

Joseph, son of James, sen., by 2nd wife Elizabeth, m. 1st, Dorothy Key, April 18, 1696, and had Elizabeth, b. Jan. 29, 1697–8. Mrs. Dorothy Babcock died Dec. 14, 1727, and Joseph m. 2nd, Mrs. Hannah Coats. By her he had Abigail, b. April 30, 1731; Anthony, Feb. 2, 1729–30; Joseph, Oct. 14, 1732; and John, Jan. 28, 1735–6.

George Brown.—In 1692 Peter Crandall had a son-in-law of this name. The will of Mrs. Jane Babcock, wife of James Babcock, jr., of the date of 1718, mentions dau. Mary Brown, who appears to have been the wife of a George Brown. We also find the will of one of the same name at Westerly, dated Sept. 14, 1718; mentions wife Dorothy, eldest son George, sons Peter, John and William—eldest dau. Elizabeth Stanton, dau. Sarah Champlin, and dau. Ruth Brown.

Another George Brown was m. to Jerusha, dau. of Joseph Lewis, April 4, 1734. Indeed, there are so many of this name on the different records, that I have been unable to distinguish them.

The cattle marks of John and Thomas Brown appear on the Stonington records as early as 1683.

Robert Burdick.—Free., Newport, May 22, 1655. He m. Ruth, dau. of Samuel Hubbard, of Newport, and had Robert, Hubbard, Thomas, Benjamin, Samuel, Naomi who m. Jonathan Rogers, Tacy who m. Joseph Maxson, Ruth who m. John Phillips, and Deborah who m. Joseph Crandall. Robert Burdick was with Tobias Saunders, arrested by the Mass. authorities for trespassing upon their possessions, and imprisoned at Boston, until they should pay a fine of £50. He died in 1692.

Of his sons, Robert m. Deborah, dau. of Lewis; Hubbard m. a dau. of John Maxson; and Benjamin m. Mary ——, and had Mary, b. July 26, 1699, m. —— Lewis; Rachel, b. July 6, 1703, m. —— Stewart; Peter b. Aug. 4, 1702; Benjamin, Nov. 20, 1705; John, March 24, 1706; David, Feb. 24, 1710; William, June 12, 1710; Elisha, Sept. 20, 1712.

James Cass (or Case).—Made free. Oct. 28, 1668. Probably removed with first emigrants to Kingstown, as we find many of that name there about 1690, and find no traces of him at Westerly.

Jeoffrey Champlin, Sen.—Was at Portsmouth, R. I., in 1638; admitted inhab. Newport 24th of 11th mo. 1638, and adm. free. 1640. He removed to Westerly with first emigrants in 1661, and in 1695 is mentioned as deceased. He m. ——, and had Jeoffrey, eldest son, William, who died Dec. 1st, 1715, in his 62nd year, and Christopher. His children were all probably born in Newport, but as all the records of that place previous to the Revolution were destroyed by the British, it is mere matter of conjecture.

EARLY SETTLERS OF WESTERLY, RHODE ISLAND.

[Communicated by J. D. CHAMPLIN, Jun., of Stonington, Conn.]

The town of Westerly was settled in the year 1661 by a colony from the island of Aquidneck, (now Rhode Island,) and mostly from the town of Newport. Its Indian name appears under the various orthography of Misquamocuck, Swampscot, Squamicutt, Squamicuck, &c. For a particular account of the first purchase and settlement, see Potter's Narraganset, Vol. III, Collections Rhode Island Historical Society. The following list of "free inhabitants" is a literal transcript from the first volume of town meeting records, and although bearing date, 1669, was probably not entered until 1682–3, as may be inferred from the following, recorded on the next page, immediately after the list :—

Payne or Paine of Block Island.—In an article on the Payne or Paine family of Block Island, which I contributed to the Register in January 1929 * (vol. 83, pp. 84-88), it was stated (p. 88) that Joshua (3, xiv), son of John and Bathsheba (Rathbone) Payne, was under age on 18 Oct. 1775 and was living 11 Jan. 1794. A deed entered in the New Shoreham town records (vol. 5, p. 336) proves that this Joshua moved to New York State prior to 19 Mar. 1798, for on that date Joshua Paine of Warren, State of New York, conveyed to William Clarke of New Shoreham, R. I., a lot of land on the south side of the Island [Block Island] containing three acres, bounded north on Peggy Paine, east on John Mitchell, and west on John Littlefield, the other boundary not being given.

FURTHER INFORMATION ABOUT THE FAMILY OF JOHN PEABODY (1612-1687) OF NEWPORT, R. I.

By Mrs. Dorothy Wood Ewers, Ph.D., of Crete, Ill.

The will of John Peabody, "aged about 75 years," drawn 22 March 1686 and preserved in the Newport Historical Society, Newport, R. I., bequeaths to son John and daughters: Mary Wood, Hannah Reed, Elizabeth Davol, Rebecca Moon, Ann Cotteral and Jane Smith. Selim Hobart Peabody in his Peabody (Paybody, Pabody, Pabodie) Genealogy, edited by Charles Henry Pope, 1909, p. 539, prints the will as "proved in Boston before Governor Andros June 22, 1687, and recorded in Suffolk County," which names son John and daughters: Mary Wood, Hannah Reed, Elizabeth Davell, Deborah Moone, An Catrill and Jane Smith.[1] On p. 541 Mr. Peabody indicates that Elizabeth married Benjamin Davol, Deborah married ——— Moon, Anna married Jabez Cottrell and Jane married Jonathan Smith. John Osborne Austin in The Genealogical Dictionary of Rhode Island, 1887, p. 145, amplified this to the extent that in addition to the record of John^2 and the other daughter he states that Elizabeth married Benjamin, son of William Davol, and Ann married Jabesh, son of Nicholas Cottrell. According to Some of the Descendants of John Read Senior of Newport, Rhode Island, and Freetown, Massachusetts, 1646-1924, compiled by Commander George H. Read and edited by George Holmes Reed, 1924, p. 5, the husband of Hannah was "probably John Read, Sr.," who was admitted a freeman 2 May 1666. Orville Augustus Dee and Myrtle M. Jillson in the Davol-Dee Genealogy, 1954, p. 1, indicate that Benjamin^2 Davol, son of William, married first, Elizabeth, daughter of John Peabody, and secondly, Judith ———; and his brother Joseph^2 Davol married first, Mary Brayton, and secondly, Elizabeth ———, who survived him.

Recently Mrs. Peter Bolhouse, while inventorying the manuscripts of the Newport Historical Society, came across a paper, dated 20 April 1687, showing the division of an unnamed estate. Mrs. Oliver Cushman, who has worked with me on Peabody-Wood lines, recognized it as that of the estate of John Peabody and sent me a transcript as well as a photostat. This gives the first names of the sons-in-law as: Nicholas Cotterell, Ebenezer Moon, Jonathan Smith, John Wood, Joseph Devol, and John Reed. It states that each got "part and share of y^e moveables and stock as it fell by lott" and listed what each received. Among other things, for instance, Nicholas Cotterell got "the halfe of 3 Cattle at Little Compton"!

The paper is signed by Henry Tew and by John Ward, his W mark. Thus it appears that Ann married Nicholas Cotterell and not Jabez Cottrell; Elizabeth married Joseph not Benjamin, son of William Davol; Hannah married John Reed; and Rebecca married Ebenezer Moon.

Albert Rathbone in Colonel William Rice and Wealthy Cottrell, his wife, 1938, p. 25, states that the name of the wife of Nicholas^2 Cottrell, son of Nicholas,^{1} is unknown; whereas J. O. Austin, op. cit., p. 57, says that Nicholas^2 "probably had an earlier wife than Dorothy" Pendleton. Mr. Rathbone indicates that Dorothy was the wife of Nicholas,^{3} son of Nicholas,^{2} and survived both her husband and her father-in-law. Since Nicholas^1 Cottrell died about 1680-1, it was Nicholas^2 who received a share of the estate of John Peabody, as the husband of Ann Cottrell, so named in her father's will. She was undoubtedly the mother of the Nicholas^3 Cottrell who married Dorothy Pendleton before 24 July 1709 (cf. Austin, op. cit., and Everett Hall Pendleton, Early New England Pendletons [c1956], p. 17). Apparently Ann did not survive her husband, Nicholas,^{2} who died shortly before 11 Jan. 1711/12, when the inventory of his estate was taken and his son, Nicholas,^{3} was named administrator.

An equally interesting document turned up among the manuscripts of the Newport Historical Society at the same time. It is an agreement between John^1 Peabody and Mordecai Bourden. This paper is in such poor condition that it could not be photostated so Mrs. Cushman transcribed it as follows:

> "Know all men by these Present that where as there hath been sundry disturbances and contests between Mordecay Bourden of Newport on Rhode Island in the Colony of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations in New England and Rebecca his wife relict of Thomas Tully late of the same place and John Peabody of said Newport concerning the Estate of the late Thomas Tully for the ending and [illegible] the said differences the said John Peabody hath given and paid unto the said Mordecay Bourden and Rebecca his wife the full just sum 6 pounds in lawful money the receipt where of we do hereby acknowledge to have receved and we hereby acquit and discharge the said John Peabody and his heirs Ex^s and Ad^s thereof and we the said Mordecay Bourden and Rebecca his wife for us and either
